Meeting Of Big Three Is Proposed

Suggested by French Premier as U.N. Opens in Paris

PARIS, Nov. 6—(AP)—France's President Vincent Auriol suggested today that President Truman, British prime minister Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Stalin meet for private talks in Paris during the session of the United Nations General Assembly opening today.

The suggestion was made in a speech prepared for delivery before the 60-nation assembly's initial meeting.

Auriol did not mention the American, British and Russian leaders by name, but referred to them as the "distinguished men to whom all anxious eyes are turned."

He said he felt sure if they came here to consider their differences in private and within the scope of the United Nations, that progress could be made toward easing current world tensions.

OK With Truman

Truman has replied to previous suggestions for a Big Four meeting by saying that he would be glad to meet Stalin in Washington.

Stalin, on the other hand, never has been willing to go so far from Russia. There has been no indication that either leader has changed his mind.

The U.N. delegates, meanwhile, gathered for a session which even before Auriol's suggestion was being described as decisive for peace.

Here is the way the French president put his suggestion for a Big Four meeting:

"I will make bold to say that if the distinguished men towards whom all anxious eyes are turned were to come here to attend this session, not of course to participate directly in your proceedings, but to establish human contact with each other, to exchange ideas personally, to consider their differences without any agenda or public debate, and to try within the scope and in keeping with the principles of the United Nations, jointly to reduce the disagreements which paralyze the world, if this should happen, we would welcome them with a joy which I am convinced would become worldwide."

Reaffirms Faith

Auriol reaffirmed France's faith in the United Nations and at the same time pledged his country's cooperation in efforts to build a strong collective security system.

And with the United States reported ready—in the face of almost certain Russian opposition—to propose a worldwide census and sweeping inspection of atomic weapons and other armaments, Auriol declared:

"We have no fonder wish than to see the establishment of a permanent and simultaneous control in all countries of all armaments, whether conventional or atomic."

The American proposal reportedly is part of a new disarmament plan in which, for the first time, the United States will agree not only to a count of conventional weapons of war, but also of atom bombs. Until now Washington has refused to agree to such an atomic count.

The proposal is said to be one of the key points in President Truman's speech to the American nation tomorrow night, in which he will outline a program for world peace.

Europe's Defense First Concern Now

Will Speak On Politics Immediately 'When and If' Time Comes, Ike Declares

(Pictures on Page 2)

WASHINGTON, Nov 6—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D Eisenhower said today that "if the time ever comes" for him to speak out on politics he'll do so immediately.

He declared, however, that "as of this moment" his job as supreme Allied commander in Europe is much too important for him to take any political stand.

He told a news conference that no one has been authorized to act for him in an Eisenhowe -for-president movement, adding that if he feels it his duty to speak "no one will need to speak for me."

Eisenhower met with reporters a few minutes before taking off in his plane, the "Columbine," on his return to his headquarters near Paris.

Talks With Duff

He said he spoke on the telephone—presumably earlier today—with Senator Duff (R-Pa), a leader in the drive to get the Republican presidential nomination for Eisenhower.

Eisenhower said he and Duff discussed "some subjects of mild interest" to both of them but when asked if Duff talked over with him what a reporter called the "Eisenhower for president boom" the general replied with a hearty laugh.

"No, he didn't.

"I didn't know it had reached the proportions of a boom."

Eisenhower said that when he accepted the combined western defense command last year he told President Truman he hoped the assignment wouldn't last "too long."

He declined to say how long he expected to continue in the post, saying "the subject never came up" in his conversations yesterday with President Truman.

There has been speculation that Eisenhower might give up his European post early next year if he decides to accept a presidential nomination.

Eisenhower told reporters last night that no politics came up—"not a bit"—in his hour and 20-minute luncheon with the President at Blair House yesterday.

No Comment

Asked what the two did talk about, he referred questions to the White House. There Joseph Short, presidential press secretary, said he didn't know just what was discussed. No one else attended the luncheon, he added.

Short also said the general's visit "certainly did not" have any bearing on the possibility that Eisenhower might ask to step down from the NATO command some time later.

Eisenhower refused again today to be drawn into a discussion of politics. Reporters tagged him as he was leaving his hotel for the Pentagon and asked his reaction to two headlines in the Washington Times Herald. One headline said "Ike Chills GOP Bid." The other "No One Speaks For Me—Ike."

"I have no comment," Eisenhower told them. Then added:

Won't Be Exploited

"I am not going to be exploited for any headlines whatsoever."

Republicans who have been booming Eisenhower for their party's presidential nomination are generally agreed they can't make an effective campaign until the general gives some public signal of his availability. Those closest to Eisenhower are betting he won't do that until he is ready to doff his uniform.

Phone Co. Asks Emergency Rate Increase

Wants Hike Now While PUCO Studies Prior Request

The Ohio Associated Telephone Co. yesterday filed with the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio an application for an interim rate increase to be effective until an earlier request for a rate increase can be acted upon by the commission.

Rates asked in the emergency application are the same it asked in its first application filed with the commission June 26.

C. E. Williams, president of the company, said the company had been informed a hearing would not be held on the original request for six to eight months because of the crowded commission docket.

Mr. Williams said relief was necessary immediately since advancing cost of operation and higher federal income taxes have adversely affected the net income of the company.

The increase asked by the company last June would raise the phone rates in the nine exchanges in the Marion area from 75 cents to $2 a month, depending on the various type of service.

When the PUCO granted the company a rate increase Aug. 1, 1950, the cost of a four-party residence phone in Marion, the most used service here, was $2 a month. The increase boosted the cost to $3.25 a month and if the company is granted the present increase request, the cost of the same four-party lines would be raised to $4.50 a month.

ELECTED ASSEMBLY HEAD

PARIS, Nov. 6—(AP) — Luis Padilla Nervo of Mexico was elected president of the United Nations General Assembly today. The vote was 44 for Padilla Nervo, nine for Victor Andres Belaunde of Peru and six for Adolfo Costa Du Rels of Bolivia.

Early Vote Normal In City, County

Especially Good In Some Precincts, Low in Others

Election workers in Marion were undecided this morning whether the morning's snow and sleet would aid or hinder a large voter turnout.

A light turnout was expected across Ohio, The Associated Press reported. Only one state-wide issue and one congressional race is to be decided.

The vote in Marion at mid morning was about normal, election workers reported.

Interest here is focused on the contest for mayor between Republican Harold F. Robinson and Democrat Lawrence M. Sager, the City Council contests and on a $600,000 sewage plant bond issue and three tax levies, including a four mill levy for schools.

Snow Hurts Congressional Vote

A snowstorm in the Dayton area was expected to cut into the vote in a Third Congressional District election. Democrat Jesse Yoder and Republican Paul P. Schenk, both Dayton realtors, are seeking the congressional seat vacated by Edward Breen because of illness.

Precinct E of the Sixth Ward reported the most voters of the 11 precincts checked at 10 a.m. in a Star survey of voting places.

A total of 73 persons had cast votes at that time. An election worker described the vote as "good" for any election and "especially good" for an off-year election. She said the voters were expressing most interest in the four-mill school levy and the sewage plant bond issue.

While the vote in 6-E was high, voters in Marion Township North evidently were waiting for a break in the weather. Shortly before 10, only seven persons had cast ballots. However, only one contest is listed on that ballot. Incumbent Trustee Howard Mc-

Phone The Star For News Of Voting Tonight

For news bulletins on the election in Marion, telephone The Star any time after 8 o'clock tonight.

There may not be much to report that early, but if any news is available then, it will be given out. The Star's news force will compile returns on all city office contests as well as the four special bond and tax proposals coming before the voters.

Wednesday's Star will carry a complete election account including tabulations showing how each ward voted.

For bulletins showing the vote trend tonight, call anytime after 8 o'clock. The Star's phone number is 2-1101.

OWU Audience Hears Vogeler Tell Experiences

By A. L. McCLAIN
Marion Star Staff Writer

Robert A Vogeler, American businessman who was imprisoned for 17 months by the communists in Hungary after a mock trial on trumped-up charges of espionage and sabotage, gave a stirring account of life under Soviet domination in a lecture last night at Ohio Wesleyan University in Delaware.

Some 25 Marionites were among the 2,400 present for his address, heard at Gray Chapel as part of the lecture series. Many went up to shake hands with him at the end of his talk. Sen. John W. Bricker and his wife were among the distinguished guests present.

As a counter-measure against arrests of Americans in Soviet-controlled countries, Mr. Vogeler believes the United States should halt all trade with Russia and her satellites. "If we put a stop to East-West trade, Stalin would have to behave," he said.

Economic Boycott

"We should impose a strict economic boycott not only on the offending nation but also on all Russian satellites and even the Soviet Union itself," he said.

Mr. Vogeler doesn't believe Russia is in a position for war.

"Their economy is too weak," he said.

Giving a detailed account of his arrest and torture, Mr. Vogeler said, "My arrest was but a small part of Stalin's plot to seize and conquer the world. Shortly before

WINTER MAKES AN EARLY CALL. Heavy white blankets cover many cities following the series of freak wintry storms that swept the nation. In Buffalo, N.Y., more than four inches of snow fell and (top) the city's University Circle takes on a lovely Christmasy look as the lights come on. At bottom, in Pittsburgh, children think storm was "swell" as they go sledding.

Walkout Set For Thursday

Rail Union Calls Strike On 4 Lines, More To Follow

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen today called a strike on four major railroads to begin at 3 p. m. (local standard time) Thursday.

President David B. Robertson said a work stoppage is "the only course left open to obtain long overdue increases in wages and improved working conditions."

All major railroads have been under government seizure for some time. This makes the employes technically government workers, and the government quite probably will seek a court injunction to stop the strike before it begins.

Failure to obey a court order would lay the union and its leaders open to contempt penalties.

"Progressive Strike"

The strike was termed a "progressive" one, meaning that while the walkout initially was to affect four key railroads and their subsidiaries, other rail systems could be struck later.

The four lines on which the walkout Thursday was ordered are:

Chicago and Northwestern Railway, including the Chicago, St Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha Railway.

Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis.

Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, including the Buffalo Division (formerly Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway) and the Buffalo and Susquehanna district.

Louisville and Nashville Railroad.

St. Louis Reports 11 Inches of Snow

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6—(AP)—St. Louis was buried under 11 inches of snow today in its greatest 24-hour snow storm in 39 years—the fifth heaviest in St. Louis history.

Traffic was stalled throughout the city and the snow continued to pile up at the rate of an inch an hour. The weather bureau saw little prospect of a letup later in the day.

One death was attributed to the storm.

Allies Insist Armistice Be Signed

MUNSAN, KOREA, Nov. 6 —(AP)—The United Nations command spokesman said today the Reds want to call off the fighting in Korea without signing a formal armistice.

The U.N. he said, will have none of that.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, the spokesman, told newsmen the Reds tipped their hand Tuesday when they rejjected the latest Allied proposal. That was an offer Monday to set aside the stalemated cease-fire buffer zone issue for the moment and take up other items that must be settled before a formal armistice can be signed.

The Reds demanded, Nuckols said, immediate "final, formal solution" of the buffer zone matter before proceeding to the rest of the agenda.

Nuckols said this would in effect allow a de facto cease-fire—an end to the fighting without formal agreement—and let armistice talks drag on indefinitely.

There was speculation the Reds wanted an unofficial armistice (1) to get relief from Allied air poundings, (2) because it might pin down a great amount of the west's available military forces, and (3) because they can't stand another U.N. offensive.

Nuckols said the only incentive that makes the Reds keep talking is "continuing pressure of possible hostilities."

5-DAY FORECAST

Temperatures will average four to eight degrees below normal. Cold beginning of period with rising trend in temperatures late Thursday or Friday. Rain or snow changing to snow flurries Wednesday, and rain or snow about Friday. Total precipitation about one-half inch.

Third Man Injured In Earlier Collision With Same Train

Two Marion County men were killed and a third seriously injured yesterday in two separate accidents involving automobiles and a New York Central passenger train.

Killed were Braden A. Meadows, 61, of near New Bloomington and McClellan Miller, about 65, who lived with Meadows.

Their car was smashed by the NYC's Cleveland-St. Louis Special at a crossing in LaRue at 4:40 p.m.

Seriously Injured

Seriously injured was Miller Key, 55, of near Marion, whose auto was rammed by the same train an hour earlier at an alley crossing in Marion.

Meadows and Miller were thrown from the car after it was hit broadside by the engine of the westbound NYC train at the Front St. crossing in LaRue.

Meadows, the driver, was apparently unable to see the approaching train until he was on the track. Vision to the east may have been blocked by box cars parked on a siding, LaRue residents said. The double-track crosing has no gates and the only warning is a bell.

The two men were traveling north. They were believed en route to Meadows' home near New Bloomington, where they both lived. The collision occurred on the north track.

Bodies, Car Thrown 70 Feet

After the impact, the bodies and car were thrown north of the track, between the street and a railroad bridge crossing the Scioto River about 70 feet to the west. Parts of the car rolled down the river bank, and a wheel cracked through thin ice into the river. It was hauled out by boys who investigated with a boat.

The bodies were taken to the Ford Funeral Home in LaRue by the Ford ambulance.

Multiple cuts, bruises, and fractures were listed as the cause of death.

State highway patrolmen investigating the accident did not issue a report on the speed of the train.

Engineer on the train was Fred Hodgson, 60, of Cleveland, patrolmen reported.

Key Car Hit at Crossing

Miller Key, 55, of near Marion was seriously injured yesterday at 3:41 p.m. when his car was struck by the same New York Central Train 407 at an alley crossing between N. Main St. and N. Prospect St. to the rear of the Millard Hunt Co.

Key was driving his car south across the crossing when it was struck by the westbound passenger.

The impact apparently jolted the car door open and Key was thrown clear, landing about 20 feet from the crash scene on the north side of the railroad tracks.

The car was carried on west about 100 feet, rolled into a ball and jammed between the train and the brick wall of the Millard Hunt Co. building facing N. Prospect St.

The train was going about 30 miles per hour when the accident occurred, railroad officials reported.

Observers at the accident said it was one of the worst they had ever seen and believed that Key's escape from instant death was miraculous.

The car was a new Oldsmobile which had only 40 miles on the speedometer, police reported.

Key was taken to Marion City Hospital in the Gunder ambulance.

Still Unconscious

He is suffering severe head injuries. His face was badly cut on both sides, as was his lower lip, and he suffered deep abrasions on both legs.

Extent of the injuries is not known since his condition, described as "serious," does not permit a full examination.

He was still unconscious at midmorning, the hospital reported.

Police arrived at the scene of the accident and called firemen from the Central fire station who stood by in case gasoline from the car caught fire. The auto's engine was torn from its mounting and thrown about 20 feet from the car.

Traffic on the railroad was held up for nearly an hour while workmen from the Fleet Service Garage worked to pull the car from the tracks. The operation was difficult because the car was jammed tightly between the train and the building.

Crowd Gathers

The work was watched by an estimated crowd of 500 persons who stood at the alley and on N. Prospect St.

Key is owner and operator of Key's Auto Sales and Speedy Auto Wash at 420 N. Main St. He is married and the father of four children.

Two of them who live in Marion are Russell J. Key of 800 Sheridan Rd. and Mrs. Robert Shroats of 200 Powhattan St.

Other children are Mrs. Evelyn Early of Pittsburgh and Miller Key Jr., who makes his home in California.

The Key family lives on the Delaware pike south of Marion near the Children's Home.

Braden Allen Meadows was born March 1, 1890, in Mason County, West Virginia, a son of Russell and Tansey Ray Meadows. A retired farmer, he had lived near New Bloomington three years, coming from Buffalo, W. Va. Sept. 14, 1931, he married Phebe Marie Sayre at Buffalo.

Surviving with his widow are children by a previous marriage, Mrs. Oma Hill and Berl Meadows, both of Cincinnati, Dewey Meadows of Buffalo, and Mrs. Lula McGrue of Nitro, W. Va., younger children, Braden Allen Meadows, Betty Jean Meadows and Richard Meadows, all at home, and Mrs. Bessie Lou Carlyle of New Bloomington, and step children, Mrs. Judy Craig and George Walker, both of LaRue, Ottmer Walker of Marion, and Roy Lee Walker of New Bloomington.

Mr. Miller, a retired brakeman for the Erie Railroad Co., made his home with Mr. Meadows northwest of New Bloomington. He was born Feb. 8, 1887, in New Bloomington, the son of Marion and Martha Jane Mattox Miller, both natives of Marion County.

Wife, Children Survive

His wife, Helen Postle Miller, lives in Huntington, Ind., with three children, Marilyn, Michael, and Roger. He also leaves two other sons, Paul and Robert, by a former marriage.

He is also survived by a brother, Ebun Miller of Huntington, Ind., and two half-sisters, Mrs. Veryl Short of Marion and Mrs. W. W. Bowles of LaRue.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Erie, Pa., Man Killed Near Mt. Gilead

Third To Die Since Sunday in Morrow County Accidents

The third traffic fatality in two days in Morrow County occurred yesterday at 3:30 p.m. when James Wilbur Hill, 42, of Erie, Pa., was killed after the car in which he was riding went off the left side of the road and struck a tree on Route 42, about two miles north of Mt. Gilead.

Dr. Frank Sweeney, Morrow County coroner, announced that death resulted from a fractured skull.

Hill's wife, Virginia, was driving the car, according to the state highway patrol. They were reportedly traveling south to visit Mrs. Hill's mother in Kentucky.

Wife in Hospital

Mrs. Hill was taken to Mansfield General Hospital where she is undergoing treatment for possible fractures of the nose and right leg, and abrasions and contusions.

The body was taken to the Craven Funeral Home in Mt. Gilead and later sent to Edinboro, Pa.,

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

HEARD ON THIS BEAT:

BEHIND him, on his military headquarters desk, are several urgent requests for statements on labor which Gen. Eisenhower won't answer until he consults with his brother, Dr. Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College. There is a bloc of anti-Taft and anti-Truman labor leaders who would like him to speak out favorably so they can organize unionists behind the Eisenhower boom.

However, the only word "Ike" has sent on labor came in a letter to David Dubinsky's Ladies' Garment Workers' Union educational department, wishing it a successful year. But this message was dispatched by Eisenhower as president of Columbia University and not as the commander of the North Atlantic Forces . . .

Meanwhile, labor is splitting sharply, some swinging to Sen. Taft, visiting him publicly at his hotel rooms around the countryside, pledging their support. Others, working closely with U. S. Labor Secretary Tobin, a dynamic speaker, are running a series of Democratic rallies right across country. Mr. Taft's people are saying he will have more labor support than any other GOP candidate can muster, including Gen. Eisenhower.

* * *

BUT WHETHER there is labor support for Taft or Eisenhower, it is certain that a very strong AFL bloc has begun to roll against Mr. Truman—still preponderantly the favorite of many other powerful labor chiefs. Behind the closed doors of the AFL's political strategy session in Washington's Hotel Hamilton last Thursday, Mr. Truman was bitterly assailed by leaders of some four million AFL members. This was unprecedented. Angriest was Dick Gray, Building Trades chief, who, using such phrases as, "We've been getting kicked around," asked, "Are we going to follow the Truman policy or make them come clean?" A spokesman for Jimmy Petrillo's Musicians' Union wanted to know why just three Democrats voted against the Lea Act which restricted Jimmie's activity.

It was virtually decided to junk the Taft-Hartley law as an anti-Republican issue. Instead, the AFL will campaign against high prices, for rent controls and better housing.

It was said, to some applause, that the Truman Administration acted as though labor had no other place to go. But there was sharp criticism of Taft, too, by other leaders, who said, in corridor conversations, that Eisenhower might be their way out. Whether these leaders spoke for the millions of AFL members who follow them on the picket lines, however, will be proved only by counting the votes on the ballot lines.

This is certain — if the rank and file does not follow its leaders' choices in 1952, whoever they may be, many AFL labor chiefs will just abandon political action, no matter what you hear . . .

* * *

MEANWHILE, way over on the left, the men who control the legal machinery of Henry Wallace's old Progressive Party are rejuvenating it in New York, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania. Plans are to go into small towns, especially in the Negro communities, and build campaign machinery for the '52 presidential race. Word is that the Party will run a Negro on its national slate . . .

* * *

THE MEN assigned to offer John L. Lewis the presidency of the left wing labor federation, secretly knit together in the Hotel New Yorker by Harry Bridges (who called the session) three weeks ago, are Albert Fitzgerald, head of the pro-Commie United Electrical (atomic and jet) Workers, and Russ Nixon, the union's Washington front. Word to the coal diggers' chief was that they are willing to throw their 500,000 followers into District 50 of the United Mine Workers if Lewis prefers that to leading an independent federation. Lewis has been silent—which means that he has not unloosed his Shakespearean venom to hurl them into many-syllabled perdition.

* * *

ODDLY ENOUGH John Lewis has been speaking almost affectionately of CIO leader Phil Murray recently. In that you find the secret to Phil's all-pervading strength, not only inside CIO, but everywhere inside labor.

Not generally known on the outside, where the public believes that labor is really a united movement instead of an alliance of men who don't generally know each other well, is that Philip Murray is one of the few labor men who knows them all, having come through the wars with them.

For example, when Phil Murray did not attend the high command sessions of the old United Labor Policy Committee, the other CIO men literally didn't know the AFL chiefs personally. A veteran like Emil Rieve (CIO Textile Union leader) knew them by sight. But the younger CIO people knew them only from news photos. Only Phil Murray knew all the angles and ancient feuds among the older AFL chiefs.

Even at this stage, if Phil makes good his threat to resign within a year, there won't be any well informed liaison between the giants. Remember that the three men who lead labor today, Murray, Green and Lewis, are ex-coal diggers . . .

* * *

SO HARD HIT by unemployment are some CIO unions that they say we'd have marches of jobless to Washington if it were not for unemployment compensation and some part-time work by others in the family. Demands for Federal action will be voiced again and again at the CIO convention here this week . . . Textile leaders say unemployment in some areas is worse than it was in the '30s. . . . They're even starting a drive against prison labor in penitentiary mills to save some work for weavers outside.

First Gambling Cards Issued In Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6—(AP)—The first eight $50 gambling licenses were issued here yesterday but in at least two instances police warned quickly that gambling would not be permitted.

Four of the licenses were issued to Hamilton, men. One each went to persons in Wilmington, Dayton, Blanchester and Cincinnati.

The licenses were issued under the new federal law which requires gamblers to pay the $50 registration fee and also a 10 per cent tax on their gross volume of wagering business.

Police Chief John A. Bippus of Hamilton said "gambling will not be tolerated" when he learned licenses had been issued to Olah B. Walton, William Yarnell, Jack M. Wooley and Raymond L. Emenaker of that city.

"They will not be permitted to operate a book or any other form of gambling," Bippus said.

The license at Dayton went to Steve K. Stamas and Police Chief M. C. Kirkpatrick said Stamas would be prosecuted if he is caught taking bets. Kirkpatrick said Stamas attempted to open a race book early this year but closed down after an officer was stationed in his establishment.

Stamas said he had no plans to get into the gambling business and that he bought the license as a "business investment."

Here in Cincinnati, the license went to William Pitcher and he quickly disclaimed any intention of entering the gambling business.

Pitcher said he had been in the habit of distributing football betting cards to some of his friends but that he told them he was going to quit after the new law became effective. He said his friends went together and put up the $50 license fee.

Urge Training Program Speedup

Shortage of Skilled Labor Worries Defense Planners

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—A shortage of skilled workers is already showing up in some defense industries. And the government is expected to urge industrial firms to step up training programs.

More than 5,000 skilled workers are badly needed in the tool making industry, the National Tool and Die Manufacturers Association reports.

A campaign to induce more young men to study engineering—and to induce the government not to draft them while they're studying—is to be pushed by the engineering manpower commission of the Engineers Joint Council. The council says there's a need right now for 80,000 more engineers to man the expanding industrial plants of the nation.

How to end the "alarming shortage of engineers and scientists in the United States" will be tackled by 60 educators at the second Thomas Alva Edison Foundation Institute for science teachers to be held next week in West Orange, N. J.

A survey of all types and sizes of manufacturing companies by the magazine "Mill & Factory" shows that 30 per cent have job openings for graduate engineers which they have not been able to fill.

The defense mobilization administration is reported worried about future serious bottlenecks in vital defense production because of the shortage of professional and scientific personnel. The lack of a few key scientists can slow down defense production even more than a shortage of production workers, Washington warns.

* * *

TO MEET THIS PROBLEM both government and private industry come forth today with plans—training for new men, more pay and productivity for old.

Factories and plants should provide training plans both for new workers and for increasing the skills of present workers, the government holds.

Industry's reply is that some government policies are actually helping to increase the shortage of skilled men.

The tool and die manufacturers say that a survey shows that almost every tool and die shop in the nation lacks enough skilled workers. The association emphasizes that this is hurting defense production. Since much of their work is to equip plants for re-armament production. Members employ about 45,000 workers in tool and die plants.

"You get a fellow half trained and then he is drafted," one of the tool makers complains. Others charge that some of their workers are being lured away by the offer of higher pay in new manufacturing plants.

Pirating of workers has been charged in other industries also, as many fast growing industrial communities recruit men from older sections.

* * *

ONE SUGGESTION of meeting the problem of skilled labor shortages is to step up productivity. More efficient use of present engineering personnel has been urged by a federal official, who has said that an increase of 10 per cent in productivity would be equal to adding 40,000 engineers to the laboring force.

Increased productivity is being tried by at least one steel company as a way to ease the critical steel shortage. And there is talk that the plan might spread throughout the industry, if it is taken up during the forthcoming wage discussions by management and steel union.

Advocates of the plan claim that by producing more, the workers would cut the unit costs of production, and prices would not necessarily have to rise. But the worker could be making more—and his skill would be stretched out over more goods, reducing by that much the effects of the growing shortage of skilled workmen.

IN THE SERVICE

Richard L. Stock has been promoted from private first class to the rank of corporal, according to word received recently by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Stock of 905 N. Franchot Tone Considers Sueing Woman Columnist

LOS ANGLES, Nov. 6—(AP)—Columnist Florabel Muir will have to tell Franchot Tone's lawyer about that little set-to at a night club.

Tone obtained a court order yesterday directing Miss Muir to give testimony Nov. 19 at the office of Tone's attorney. Tone said he is considering a suit for invasion of his right of privacy and will require the testimony.

Miss Muir, he said, "falsely accused the petitioner of being in possession of and being under the influence of narcotics." She made this charge, he said, to deputies the night of the quarrel, Oct. 28.

Miss Muir made a "citizen's arrest" of Tone, saying he had spit in her face and kicked her shins.

Tone also asked that testimony be obtained from Miss Muir and others about the "unlawful and fraudulent" recording of telephone conversations between him and Barbara Payton before their recent marriage.

He said the recording was made over the telephone of Elizabeth Cosgriff, who shared a party line with Miss Payton. Testimony about this incident will be taken Nov. 20, the court said.

WHAT, NO LOWELLS?

School Cafeteria Plans Discussed

The proposed school cafeteria was discussed at a meeting of St. Mary P.-T.A. Sunday afternoon in Moira Hall. Speaker was Victor Warren of Columbus, state supervisor of commodities distribution, who talked on federal aid to schools. He was accompanied here by Rev. Father Bennett Applegate, acting superintendent of schools in the Columbus Diocese. A short talk was given by Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, V. F., head of St. Mary Parochial School, who also opened and closed the meeting with prayer. Dan Gibb, president presided.

Husbands Change

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

ONE of the things wives always say to their husbands on wedding anniversaries is:

"Marriage hasn't changed you a bit."

They could pronounce this sentence in a way to make it sound flattering. But usually it has a note of resignation in it, as if they were discussing the Long Island Railroad, which changes about as much as the Washington Monument.

This is my own fourteenth wedding anniversary. And though I shower my Ozark bride with rosebuds and ply her with sirloin, I know that sometime during the celebration Frances will say, rather wistfully: "But, you know, marriage hasn't changed you a bit. You're just the same as you were the day we were married."

Hal Boyle

And that will sound odd to me, as it does to most husbands. We don't know just what our wives really expected us to turn into, but we do know that marriage has been a soft cocoon of change. Certainly we aren't the same as we were in our bachelor primeval, I mean time.

* * *

WHAT ARE SOME OF the changes? Well, one man's story:

When I was single I used to have to turn off the alarm clock in the morning. That doesn't happen anymore.

My breakfast once consisted of a bottle of cream soda and a sack of salted peanuts. Frances taught me that country scrambled eggs and hot tea are just as digestible. Through her I learned how wonderful well-cooked food can be—that it can be fun as well as just a fuel.

I have learned not to go into the kitchen and dry my hands on the dish towels. (This took years.)

I wear slippers now, instead of running around the house barefoot.

I no longer wipe my nose on the dinner napkin. (At least while anyone is watching.)

The bartender no longer cashes my paycheck. I bring it home in my mouth, and Frances takes it to the bank. (The banker doesn't know me, but he bows when she comes through his door.)

I have more buttons on my shirts than I did in the old days, and fewer holes in my socks.

* * *

I NO LONGER get run over by milk wagons late at night, and I don't sprain my ankle playing softball any more. In fact I am 25 pounds heavier, and go up stairs one at a time.

Falling hair has changed me from a lowbrow to a highbrow, and given me a faintly intellectual look.

I no longer whistle out loud every time a pretty girl passes. (I hardly even pucker my lips.)

I have learned how to button up the back of a lady's dress (at home) and light her cigaret (in company.)

I have forgotten all but two telephone numbers — the one at home, the one at the office.

I found a hair—a gray hair at that—growing out of my ear the other day. (That never happened when I was single.)

When we have a cocktail party, I only invite ten extra strange people—instead of 20.

* * *

BUT MOST OF ALL, I have changed in getting accustomed to marriage itself. The day I was trundled to the altar I had a wild momentary doubt that I would ever really get used to coming home to the same human being the rest of my life.

That has turned out, however, to be the best part of the deal. Single freedom? I wouldn't trade places with a nasty old bachelor for a free key to Fort Knox.

Where do wives get that idea anyway—the idea that husbands don't change? Why, marriage makes a chameleon out of any man—a better chameleon, too. It's the wives who don't change.

2 Horse Sales Scheduled At Coliseum

Two harness horse sales are scheduled for this month at the Memorial Coliseum at the county fairgrounds.

The Washington C. H. Sales Co. has shifted its annual fall sale here and will hold the two-day event on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16 and 17. That sale will be for colts and is expected to include several weanlings, yearlings and two and three-year olds.

During the following seven-day period, Thanksgiving Week, a blooded horse sale will be held by Bob Jewell of Wilmore, Ky. That sale has been held in Columbus during previous years and was transferred here after construction of the Coliseum.

Although no sale list of horses to be offered has been received here, local horse owners expect a good line of harness horses to be offered. No definite date has been set for the blooded horse sale but it will be held during the week of Thanksgiving.

Ralph Williams New Pomona Grange Master

Ralph Williams of Bethlehem Grange was elected master of Pomona Grange Saturday night at Progressive Grange Hall. Officers were elected for two years.

Elected also were John Owen of Bowling Green Grange, overseer; Mrs. Carroll Williams of Bethlehem, lecturer; Clay Smith, United Grange, steward, and George Bosley Jr., Salt Rock, assistant; Mrs. Grace Fletcher, United, chaplain; Mrs. Odessa Roszman, Tymochtee, secretary; Ralph Hurr, United, treasurer; Ernest Klingel, Whetstone, gate keeper; Mrs. Mae Smith, United, Ceres; Mrs. Mable Pangborn, Martel Pomona; Mrs. Mabel Brady, Montgomery, Flora, Mrs. Maxine Bosley, Salt Rock, lady assistant steward; Mrs. Alma Downs, Martel, pianist, and Mrs. Grace Kennedy, Montgomery, assistant; Kenneth Pangborn, Martel, legislative agent; and Mrs. Edna Williams, Grand Prairie, home economics chairman.

The 11 subordinate granges made reports. Announcement was made of the Marion County Grange banquet Nov. 15 at First Evangelical and Reformed Church in Marion. At Pomona meeting Dec. 1 at Grand Prairie Grange, a Christmas program and gift exchange will be held. A committee from the host Grange served.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Marriage, Hollywood Style

One thing you can say about "I Love Lucy," (CBS-TV, 9 p.m. EST Mondays) a fairly new filmed operation starring Lucille Ball and her husband, Desi Arnaz, is that its title is almost too candid. Loving Lucy, or rather putting up with her, is the sole task entrusted to Mr. Arnaz. This domestic comedy series reduces the role of husband to roughly that of the male spider, and I wouldn't be at all surprised if, at the end of the season, Miss Ball ate him.

John Crosby

Mr. Arnaz's principal duties in "I Love Lucy" are the expression of pained exasperation at some of his wife's crazy antics and crazier utterances. Generally he does this by clapping one hand to his cheek and exclaiming: "Holy cow"—an expletive widely admired on the West Coast. Some instinct tells me we are in for an outbreak of these husband-and-wife affrays from Hollywood and I bring it all up here to warn you husbands to batten down the hatches and prepare for a blow.

* * *

In one of the more recent "I Love Lucys," Miss Ball, who besides being an awfully pretty girl is a very expert comedienne, invited herself to sit in on a poker game with her husband. This is a perfectly horrible idea to spread abroad on a coast-to-coast network and will probably put all sorts of ideas in the heads of hitherto sensible housewives. In my area, this practice is known as double jeopardy which is forbidden by the Constitution. Wives are automatically ruled out of any poker game which includes her own husband unless she brings in fresh money left her by her maiden aunt, money otherwise inaccessible to the husband. In this case, the script not only permitted Miss Ball in the game but called for her to win buckets of money through the exercise of abysmal stupidity, another idea which will damage a lot of husband's pocketbooks before their wives get the idea you can't win at poker that way.

The scene pretty well sums up the spirit and essence of "I Love Lucy." Miss Ball, I gather, will plunge into one dizzy situation after another. Mr. Arnaz will clap his hand to his cheek and exclaim: "Oh, no!"—another favorite expletive. (Mr. Arnaz, incidentally, could be a darned good comedian, too, if they'd give him something to do.)

* * *

I'm a little depressed about the whole thing because it continues a radio formula—and especially a state of mind about husbands—which had outgrown its usefulness long before television was very important. The show, I'm forced to concede, is very competently put together, is written almost too professionally (which is to say, cynically), and, as long as Miss Ball is in there, it'll always have quite a few laughs in it. But I think it's a terrible waste of her talents and her husband's.

I hate to sound anti-Hollywood, which I'm not. But there's something terribly wrong about comedy that comes out of Hollywood. The know-how remains; the gags are not bad; but somewhere along the coaxial cable, the freshness and charm—especially the charm—of the entertainers goes flat. The endless cliches into which these people are thrust, and what I'm afraid is the spirit of contempt or, at very least, indifference toward television which seems to imbue the actors, robs them of a great deal of their personality and of their appeal.

Marriage, under the Hollywood rules, becomes a sort of children's game in which the wife plays the part of a combination elf and nursemaid. If I had Miss Ball under foot, seems to me I'd regard her in a somewhat different light.

FOILED IN ROBBERY PLOT. A daring plot to rob Mitchell Field, L. I., Air Force base of its $600,000 payroll comes a cropper with arrest in New York of George Danilla, 22, and accomplice Robert Degan, 18, and two soldiers by FBI agents. Danilla, labeled "the brains" of the plot, is a former Marine. The FBI agents who made the arrests acted on a tip from three soldiers who "played along" with the civilian plotters. Punishment could be five-year prison sentences and $10,000 fines. Danilla and Degen hatched the plot in a tavern, intended first a daylight robbery, then changed to a safe cracking plan.

Waldo Church Circle Meets

WALDO, Nov. 6—Plans were made to sponsor a fall festival Nov. 30 at the Waldo Methodist Church, when the Ruth Circle met recently at the home of Mrs. Leon McCorkle in Waldo. Mrs. Lester Pickett was assistant hostess.

The meeting was in charge of he vice chairman, Mrs. Clara Mae Wiseman. Seventeen members and two guests, Mrs. Evelyn Seiter and Mrs. Ada Gompf were present. The first chapter of the study book, "The Family, a Christian's Concern," was reviewed by Mrs. Ruth Kline.

The week of prayer and self-denial was observed and a special offering for it was taken. Mrs. Wayne Brandes was appointed to be in charge of a personal shower.

Plans for the fall festival include a bake sale, bazaar and a chili supper. During the evening tea towels were hemmed to be sold at the bazaar. Winners of ontests were Mrs. Marjorie Demorest, Mrs. Kline and Mrs. Wiseman.

Wage Line "No Sieve" Says Johnston

Stabilizer Backs Govt. Policies At CIO Convention

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said today that while the wage line is not frozen, neither is it a "sieve for wage inflation."

Johnston, in an address prepared for the national CIO convention, said the government's wage policies are fair and assure "real earnings."

At the same time, he added, they provide "a strong framework of overall wage stabilization."

The basic policy of allowing pay increases to keep pace with cost of living rises is fair, Johnston said, and was hammered out by labor, management, and public representatives "working together in good faith on the wage stabilization board."

Must Hold Wage Rates

"It is a policy which assumes we can hold the cost of living within bounds," Johnston said. "And if we're to do that, then wage rates must also be held within bounds."

"Prices must also be held within bounds," the economic controls chief added. "We are pushing the program of tailored price regulations as the most effective way to hold the price line. When costs are down, the public should get the benefit in lower price ceilings. That's our determined goal.

"In living with the wage policy, labor makes a good bargain—it trades something for something. For wage adjustments which are less in many cases than the traffic would bear it receives in return the assurance of stability, and that means the maintenance of real wages.

Labor Should Share

"This does not mean that labor isn't entitled to continue to share in increased output—in actual increased productivity. I think it should. That's fair and reasonable and will not be unstabilizing."

Johnston's remarks were considered significant, even though he has submitted his resignation to be effective probably before Dec. 1. That's the date when CIO President Philip Murray begins negotiating for a new contract in the steel industry. He heads the million - member steelworkers' union which is demanding about a 20-cent hourly pay hike.

Eisenhower

ington — as he had before in Paris and New York — Eisenhower refused to be drawn out on political questions. Nowhere, however, did he accept opportunities that arose to take himself out of the presidential picture.

This gave something of a lift to Republicans like Senator Duff of Pennsylvania who have been talking him up for the GOP nomination.

Eisenhower made it clear that Duff and other Republicans, as well as Democrats who suggested him for their party's nominee, are operating on their own.

Asked if he had given anyone authority to undertake any political activity in his behalf, the general pursed his lips, grinned widely and rolled out a "no."

When another reporter asked whether he would permit anyone to talk politics with him on his visit, the answer was less emphatic.

"Not just now," he said.

Armistice Day Observance Set Saturday

In a proclamation issued today, Mayor Harold F. Robinson has designated Saturday to be commemorated as Armistice Day. This action was taken since Armistice Day, this year, falls on Sunday.

Plans are under way for a parade to be held in downtown Marion Saturday night. Also, at 11 a.m. Saturday, service in honor of the war dead will be held at the courthouse.

Final plans for the two events will be made at a meeting of the Armistice Day parade committee tonight at 8 in the Veterans Memorial Home. Representatives from the various veteran and civic organizations of the city are members of the committee.

In issuing the proclamation, Mayor Robinson said "it is fitting and proper that the people of Marion do reverently honor our comrades of all wars on this day."

Banks, savings and loan offices, and all city, county and government offices are scheduled to be closed on Monday since, under Ohio law, Monday is the legal Armistice Day holiday when the day falls on Sunday.

Vote

Curdy is opposed for re-election by Clifford E. Willoughby.

At the same time, a total of 20 voters had visited the polls in Marion Township South.

"Normal" in 1-A

A normal off-year vote was reported in Precinct A of the First Ward where 36 had voted at 9:15. In Ward 1-B, a total of 41 had voted at 9:30 to give that precinct a normal early-morning vote. Twenty-eight voters had balloted in Precinct D of the Second Ward in what also was termed a normal turnout. An election worker there believed the vote would have been higher under different weather conditions.

Following 6-E in the voting was Precinct C of the Fifth Ward. Fifty-eight persons turned out before 10 a.m. A poll worker said the total was high and said she believed it was composed mostly of persons fearing the bad weather would last throughout the day and wanted to "get it over with."

Precincts C of the Third Ward and D of the Fourth Ward also reported very good turnouts this morning. Fifty-six voters had visited the polls in the Third Ward precinct while 53 had voted in 4-D.

Normal in Pleasant

In Pleasant Township, a normal vote was seen on the basis of early voting. By 10 this morning, a total of 26 voters had cast ballots in Pleasant North and an additional 21 had voted in Pleasant South. Workers from both precincts termed the turnout normal.

Other precinct workers throughout the city and county expected the voting to pick up this afternoon. One worker said housewives probably would begin visiting the polling places after preparing lunch for school children and all precincts expect the usual rush of factory workers after working hours. Office employes were expected to cause a noon rush.

Besides the special House election, statewide interest centers on a proposal to change the state constitution to give counties more probate judges and on municipal offices and bond issues. The House seat at stake, in the area around Dayton, has alternated between the Republicans and Democrats.

There have been heated mayoral campaigns in Akron and Youngstown. Toledo, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Columbus also elect mayors.

Issues Mostly State and Local

By The Associated Press

In the elections centering largely around state and local issues, voters today choose two governors, one of them without opposition, four members of Congress and scores of mayors.

The off-year elections have been pretty generally discounted by political observers as a tip-off on next year's presidential and congressional elections.

The most heat has been generated in several mayor and other local elections, notably in Philadelphia.

The special House of Representatives elections are to fill vacancies caused by deaths or resignations. They include two in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey, all normally Republican, and one in Ohio which goes either way.

Foot of Snow Buries St. Louis, Still Falls

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 6—(AP)—The city's worst snowstorm in 39 years paralyzed the St. Louis metropolitan area of about 1,600,000 persons today and no letup before nightfall was in sight.

One foot of snow blanketed the city at midmorning. The record-breaking storm piled snow up to a depth of nearly two feet in other sections of Missouri.

Many roads and highways were impassable. Schools closed and business was sharply curtailed.

Vogeler

I was arrested, Tito had revolted. This was a blow to Soviet prestige and the Russians needed a symbol to show their little regard for the United States. By humiliating me before Hungarians and other satellites they accomplished their aim."

Another reason given for his capture by Mr. Vogeler was the Soviet scheme to take over his American company, International Standard Electrical Corp., in Hungary without compensation so that it could be run on slave labor to aid Russia's depleted economy.

Humiliated

The important significance of his trial and conviction, Mr. Vogeler said, was "The fact that a great power like the United States could be humiliated like a minor Russian satellite such as Hungary with no serious reprisals.

"We spend hundreds of millions of dollars trying to build up our prestige with the Marshall Plan and the North Atlantic Treaty and waste that amount by refusing to stand firm on other issues," he told his audience.

Speaking of the ransom the United States was forced to pay for his release, Mr. Vogeler said, "We were required to discontinue our "Voice of America" broadcasts from East Germany, but they are more effective from Greece, anyway."

In a question and answer period following his address, Mr. Vogeler said the United States should encourage the underground movements in satellite countries.

Lauds Press

To this reporter he said, "I owe my freedom today to the wonderful support by the American press and the public. Once the Reds take over a country's press and radio that country is doomed."

Mr. Vogeler still shows marks of his confinement in prison. He is on a leave of absence from his company and is kept on a liquid diet.

He came to Delaware from Florida. His next talk is scheduled for Raleigh, N. C. He left this morning.

Mrs. Vogeler, his beautiful Vienese wife, did not make the trip. She remained at their home in New York with their two boys.

The speaker was introduced by Dean C. E. Ficken, vice president of OWU.

FIREMEN CALLED

Firemen from the Central station investigated a gas odor at 194 and 198 South Main St. last night at 8:27. It was found that hot ashes in the furnace had filled the building of the Ohio Edison Co. and Harruff Tire Store with gas fumes.

OKAY, FOLKS, WHAT AM I BID? Knocking down a few duds like this must be nice work if you can get it, and this auctioneer can in Berlin. It's a fashionable dress auction and the beach suit modeled so fetchingly went for $10. Other prices were as high as $30. Lowest priced woman's dress in a Berlin shop is $15. The dresses and evening frocks came from first-class European fashion houses.

Tory Program Outlined By King George

LONDON, Nov. 6—(AP)—King George VI, announcing the Conservative party's policy in a traditional speech from the throne, declared today Britain's defense program is threatened by inflation.

Speaking for the party in power—Winston Churchill's Tories, — the king said the problem of inflation overshadows all others facing the new government. Prime Minister Churchill will make proposals to tackle the problem "in the immediate future," the monarch said in the address which opened the first formal session of the new parliament.

He sketched a Conservative party program retaining some of the emergency economic and defense measures which otherwise would expire next month. But the Conservatives will propose a bill annulling Labor's nationalization of the iron and steel industry. The speech indicated retention of some of the labor government's social services, including the free health plan, and promised to strive for efficient administration of it.

The king's speech was prepared for him by Churchill and the Conservative cabinet, and thus is, in effect, the Conservative party program.

Churchill was scheduled to elaborate on the king's speech later in the day.

Bucyrus Bank Elects New President

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Nov. 6—Charles L. Wiles Jr., 43, of Bucyrus was elected president of the First National Bank of Bucyrus yesterday.

He succeeds the late Edwin G. Beal of Bucyrus who died June 13 following an extended illness. Wiles is the fifth president of the bank since its organization in 1859.

Wiles started working for the Bucyrus City Bank in 1928, and then went to the Second National Bank of Bucyrus later. He joined the First National Bank on April 1 as assistant vice-president.

Bank officers are as follows: Dr W. G. Carlisle, vice-president; John J. Quaintance, cashier, and James Monnett, assistant cashier.

Deer Decides On Taste Of Life In City

The deer family reported recently in various parts of Marion County seems to have split up and at least one has decided on a taste of city life.

That one, believed to be a young doe, was sighted capering about on E. Church St. last night at 11 o'clock.

Anthony Cutarelli of 1017 E. Church St. first saw the animal near the office of Dr. Frederick T. Merchant on the corner of Church and High Sts.

He was joined by a friend, John Marshall, and together they attempted to follow the stray deer.

When he first saw the animal leaping across bushes and hedges, Mr. Cutarelli thought it was a large dog.

When last sighted, the deer was traveling east on Church St.

NEW MARINE CHIEF

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—President Truman has named a new top boss for the Marines, effective Jan. 1.

He is Lt. Gen. Lemuel C. Shepherd Jr., whose fighting career takes in World War I and II battles that have become modern Marine legends—Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel, Okinawa. He will succeed Gen. Clifton B. Gates, at the end of Gates' four-year tour of duty as Marine commander.

PLANE CRASH KILLS VET

TUCUMARI, N. M. Nov. 6—(AP) — A twin-engined airliner loaded with 26 Homeward-bound veterans of the Korean war crashed 100 yards short of Tucumari airport yesterday, killing one.

Six other veterans and the crew of three were hurt when the Martin 202 crashed, bounced and then broke in two in blinding snowstorm.

VETERAN GIVES ALL

WOODBURY, N. J.— (UP) — Sgt. James J. Cooney, home on his first furlough after 17 months in the Korean war zone, was bothered by the need for blood overseas and the continual appeal by the Red Cross for donors. When the bloodmobile unit visited this town, Cooney was the first in the line of donors.

AUTOS LAST LONGER

DETROIT —(UP)—The life of motor vehicles has been more than doubled in 25 years, the Automobile Manufacturers Association reports. Scrapped cars today average 14 years of age, contrasted with the 1925 average of six and one half years.

where funeral services will be held.

Hill, an electrician, was born Oct. 27, 1909. His parents, Clarence and Hattie Etheridge Hill, are living in Pennsylvania.

The other Morrow County traffic victims were Chester Lawhorn, 36, and his brother-in-law, Eugene Kizer, 19, both of near Mansfield. They were killed Sunday afternoon when the car in which they were riding, driven by Lawhorn, skidded to the wrong side of the road and struck a tractor and semi-trailer truck on Route 61, a mile south of Mt. Gilead.

Lawhorn and Kizer were en route to Mansfield from Olive Hill, Ky., where they had been visiting. The bodies were returned last night to Olive Hill, where funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at the Henderson Funeral Home. They were taken to the Craven Funeral Home in Mt. Gilead after the accident.

Born in Olive Hill

Lawhorn was born in Olive Hill Sept. 12, 1915, the son of Jesse and Susan Hall Lawhorn. His mother is living in Olive Hill. He is also survived by his wife, Genevieve, who is a sister of Kizer, and six children, Elizabeth, Patricia, McKinley, Betty Sue, Edna, and David, all at home. The oldest child is 11.

He also leaves four brothers and four sisters. Two brothers, Jack and Jethrow, and a sister, Mrs. Allie Lambert, live in Mansfield.

He lived in Mansfield five years and was employed at the Direct Coal Co.

Kizer had lived in Mansfield for a year and a half, and worked for the Westinghouse Electric Co. His parents, Lewis and Lula Johnson Kizer, are living in Olive Hill, where he was born June 17, 1932. He also leaves five sisters and three brothers.

KILLED BY TRAIN

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 6—(AP)—Mrs. Celia Hallowell, 61, was killed today when the automobile her husband was driving skidded on ice at a Nickel Plate railroad crossing into the path of a freight train. The husband Luther Hallowell, was not hurt.

"Lousy" Is Word For Ohio Weather

"The weather was 'lousy' in Ohio today," an Associated Press dispatch reported.

That just about describes it for Marion and the vicinity too, where rain, sleet and snow fell early in the day and formed ice and slush as a menace to traffic.

In Cleveland, a five-inch snow started drifting down at midmorning. In Cincinnati, rain turned to sleet during the early morning. In Columbus, leaden skies promised the snow forecast by the weather bureau. It was much the same story in other Ohio cities.

The weatherman held out little hope for more seasonal conditions in the next few days. Temperatures for the remainder of the week are supposed to be four to eight degrees below normal—which means minimums of from 27 to 31 degrees and maximums of from 44 to 48 degrees north and 49-53 degrees south.

Along with the cold weather will come some snow, said the weatherman.

sive spread through drizzling rain over a 20-mile sector. Attacking Reds were supported by their heaviest display of armor in months. They hit United Nations forces from points west of Yonchon, eight miles north of the 38th Parallel, to the hills north of Chorwon, western anchor of their old Iron Triangle.

In the center of this sector waves of Reds struck from two directions behind a heavy barrage and captured their third peak. The attack opened with a heavy concentration of fire from mortars, artillery, tanks and self-propelled guns.

The force of the assault drove Allies from their muddy foxholes atop the hill northwest of Yonchon.

West of Yonchon counterattacking Allied infantrymen were stopped in an attempt to recapture two hills the Reds overran in a vicious eight-hour battle at the start of their assault Sunday. The U.N. infantrymen fought to within 500 yards of the crests, under fire of 22 Red tanks.

More Longshoremen Go Back, Strike Eases

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Mammoth New York harbor slowly is coming back to life, with more and more AFL longshoremen returning to work on the strike-bound waterfront.

A check by U.S. Customs officials last night showed that at least 3,000 stevedores worked during the day on 31 ships and at 21 piers, exclusive of Army piers. It was the busiest day in weeks.

Meanwhile, a New York State fact-finding panel started its inquiry into the 23-day-old, billion-dollar wildcat walkout by insurgent members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association.

ATLEE DECORATED

LONDON, Nov. 6 — (AP) — Clement Atlee joined Prime Minister Winston Churchill today as the wearer of one of Britain's most coveted honors—the Order of Merit.

Church "Mother" of Other Churches

Dedication of Rural Salem Church Set

Special to The Star

BEECH, Nov. 6 — Dedication of extensive remodeling to one of Marion County's "mother" churches will be held Sunday.

Work has been completed on the Rural Salem Evangelical United Brethren church in the Beech community. From this church, members have gone out, and feeling the community of the church, have founded other churches.

The Marion Calvary EUB Church, the Greenwood EUB Church, and the Oakland Heights EUB Church were founded by members of the Rural Salem EUB Church who came to Marion to live at about the middle of the last century.

The Salem EUB Church was organized in 1837. German was the first language spoken in the church. English did not come into general church services until about 1865.

Bishop Fred L. Dennis, D.D. and LL.D., of Dayton will be the principal speaker at the services.

The remodeling work was held up because of the bad weather last winter and difficulty of obtaining materials.

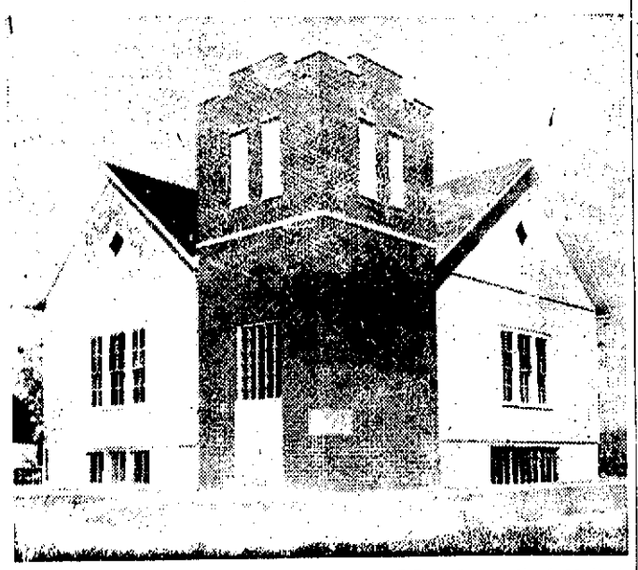
The remodeling included a new basement under the entire church. The basement floor is fully cemented and has class rooms especially adapted to beginners and primary work in the Sunday School and for social and dining room purposes. The adjoining kitchen is also large and well arranged. The building is heated by fuel oil furnaces with blower ventilating attachments.

The entrance or vestibule, which is all new, is of brick while the rest is of frame construction. The old bell was replaced in the belfry. The interior of the sanctuary was remodeled and hardwood floors laid. The outside of the building was repainted. Cement walks were laid on the newly seeded terrace lawn.

Homecoming services will begin with the Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. and continue with morning worship at 10:30 a.m. at which time Rev. C. W. Ruhlman of Columbus will preach. Basket dinner at noon hour with the Ladies Aid in charge.

Dedication service will be at 2 p.m. with Bishop Dennis preaching. Special musical numbers will be given. Dr. V. H. Allman of Bluffton, district superintendent of this area will be present for the afternoon services. The committee has invited former pastors and lay members to attend the services. There will be a brief time for former pastors to speak.

Evangelistic services at 8 p.m by the pastor, Rev. Gene Clark, will conclude the day. The Youth Fellowship will meet at 7:30 p.m.



THE NEWLY REMODELED RURAL SALEM Evangelical United Brethren Church in the Beech community is shown above. Besides extensive interior decorations, the vestibule, built of brick, was added.

BISHOP FRED L. DENNIS of Dayton will be the principal speaker for the Sunday dedication services.

REV. A. E. CLARK, pastor of the Rural Salem E.U.B. Church.

The Salem EUB Church was organized in 1837. It is now 114 years old. The first minister was Rev. Absolom B. Schaffer and up to the present time the church has been served by 83 pastors. Until 1851 when the first church was built the Salem congregation met in homes of the community. In May, 1858, conference was held in this church by 50 ministers who traveled then by buggy. It was not until 1865-67 the English language was introduced, until that time all services were conducted in German.

In 1867 the church caught fire and was burned. A new church was built on the site. The land was given to the church by Peter Gable. On Oct. 25, 1868, the church was dedicated. The church is located on the corner of county roads 158 and 169 which is eight miles east of Marion near State Route 95 in Claridon Township.

In 1902 a prayer meeting room was added. From the Salem EUB Church the Marion Calvary EUB Church was organized by former members from here who had moved to Marion. And from the Calvary Church the Greenwood and Oakland EUB Churches were started.

The Salem Church on Oct. 10, 1937, observed the Centennial celebration. The pastor then was Rev. C. A. Ramey. In the evening service at the Centennnial, a pantomime and tableau depicting the history of the church since 1837 was given by a cast of around 23 persons.

Public services were held by Rev. A. C. Coldiron, pastor, on June 10, 1951, when the cornerstone was laid. He was assisted in the services by Harold Miller, architect, and Raymond Gay, contractor, in the ceremony.

Since the remodeling began the congregation met for services on Sundays at the Claridon Schoolhouse. The first Sunday the congregation returned to the church was on July 29, 1951, although the remodeling was not completed.

CLARIDON PLANS SOCIAL

Plans are being made for a benefit social at the Claridon School for Wednesday night, Nov. 14. Proceeds will be used for the religious education and music departments of the school, it was announced. Chairmen for the event are Ralph Hurr and John Ruth.

Until 1857, pennies minted in the United States were large coins.

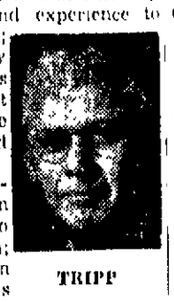
Farley on Manners

By FRANK TRIPP

JIM FARLEY made a speech at a college dinner that should ring around the world. He approached his topic, "Reaching the Hearts and Minds of Men," from three angles: good manners, good humor and good memory. He placed good manners akin to morals and spoke of their place in public life.

Since these three virtues have been the foundation of Jim's career, by admission of even his political opponents, the thoughts he expressed have both sincerity behind them and experience to back them up; for Jim Farley knows politics and government—inside out. He said of good manners:



TRIPP

"It is something more than knowing how to hold your spoon; much more than mere tact. It is to feel and show a genuine concern in others. It means caring for people, respecting them, treating them as equals and sharing their fears and earthly concerns and their ideals."

Lest one discounts that definition as an umbrella for a politician, withhold judgment until we see what he said as Jim Farley, American business man:

"It should always be remembered that men do not live by bread alone," Jim continued, "We are hearing too much in politics about what this or that party or this or that policy has to give toward the material needs of citizens and voters . . . . Farmers, workers and others are addressed as if they had no concern in the orld other than better prices and higher wages.

"I think the people who are doing that have lowered their sights too far. People are concerned with the finer objectives of human life; with spiritual values such as patriotism, love of home and love of God.

* * *

"I DEPLORE the cynical attitude that prevails in high political spots in this country and in others," Farley declared. "We are told that if the act of a public official is not illegal that it is necessarily proper and always excusable; that there is a fundamental difference between what is illegal and what is improper.

"I do not see this difference, because what is illegal is merely one of the improper things that happens to have been the subject of legislative action. We have got to pass judgment against, and so far as we can, eliminate the improper as well as the illegal in our public life.

"Our public servants elected to high office have a duty far greater than that of merely enforcing the law and collecting taxes and spending our money. They have the duty of moral leadership in the country. For if they do, or condone, or permit things that are improper they are destroying the very fabric of public morals and the poison moves down into all the ranges of our population." Then Jim said:

"When men in high places make hundreds of thousands of dollars through their improper acts it is hard to maintain purity and integrity in the sports of boys' in college and on the sandlots of the nation.

"Behind all of our relations with our fellow beings there must be a common faith—faith in the fundamental integrity of man, in his constant effort to realize his highest ideals and his essential neatness to God.

"It is that faith that in the last analysis moves the hearts and minds of men. It is the faith that makes great people and a great nation."

* * *

HOW A PLANK like that would click in a party's platform—if put there with sincerity and followed through! It would change the moral code of a nation and be felt around the world. Other peoples would begin to trust us, once we trusted each other.

A Jefferson Democrat spoke what's in the heart of every thoughtful American: That no office in the land should be high enough to hide or whitewash improper acts because they're not illegal.

One of the country's foremost politicians put his finger on the vicious spark plug of our dangerously growing national immorality: the business of condoning shady deeds for politics sake.

Our youth is beginning to think that cute—and moral.

Patrol Reports Two Accidents

Two Arrests Also In Traffic List

Two accidents on Route 23, one this morning and one yesterday, were reported by the state highway patrol.

Jack Augenstein, 26, of Waldo lost control of his car as he was traveling north at 7:05 a.m. today, about 2½ miles south of Marion, and struck a southbound truck driven by Russell Arnold, 35, of near Prospect.

Slight damage to the truck and moderate damage to the right front end of the car was reported. No one was injured.

A truck driven by Earl E Dennis, 62, of near Delaware struck the rear of another truck driven by Dale W. Baker, 21, of Columbus just south of Waldo yesterday at 1:35 a.m. The Dennis truck was damaged extensively and minor damage to Baker's truck resulted. Neither driver was injured.

Dennis was arrested for following too closely and was cited to appear Thursday before Mayor L. E. Klingel of Waldo.

Another arrest yesterday was reported by the patrol. Richard Charles Herig, 35, of near Huron was charged with speeding on Route 98 at 10:15 a.m. He is scheduled to appear tomorrow in Marion Municipal Court.

It Was So Easy to Lose 30 Lbs. The Rennel Way
I Did It—So Can You—Rennel Is Wonderful

Mrs. Earl Blakley, 240 Wadsworth Ave., Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, writes: "I have used Rennel and have found it to be an excellent product for taking off excess weight. I am 30 years old and when I started taking Rennel I weighed 180 lbs. Now I am down to 130 lbs. It was so easy to reduce the Rennel way."

Imagine, eat plenty and lose weight with this simple yet effective amazing home recipe. After purchasing a bottle of Rennel from your druggist pour the contents into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. No diets to complicate your meal planning. No expensive vitamins to fortify your system from weakness while going without food for you can eat normally. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose pounds of bulky fat and help regain slender, more youthful curves—if reducible excess fat doesn't seem to disappear almost like magic just return the empty bottle to the manufacturer for your money back. Insist on and be sure to get genuine Rennel.

ON THE ROAD TO SUCCESS

Building for the Future

Meet a boy with a bike . . . and a newspaper route. That route is doing a lot for him. It's teaching him courtesy, salesmanship, management, and many other valuable traits. But even more important, it's teaching him about people.

When a boy begins to understand human nature, he's done much to secure his future. His lessons in the classroom take on greater meaning . . . his entire perspective becomes more vital and real. Every day, more than 65,000 young men deliver daily newspapers in Ohio to the doors of their valued customers, and every day the combination of schooling and practical business training is bringing them a step closer to ultimate adult success.

Vols Still Rated No. 1 In College Football

Through the SPORTSCOPE with A.L. McCLAIN

CLASS WILL TELL. Avid football followers (and they had to be avid to attend the Harding and St Mary games last week-end) will tell you both the Presidents and Fighting Irish had to have that "something extra" to win games by scores of 7-6 under the worst weather conditions possible.

It is one thing to be so gifted with natural ability in football to out-play an opponent and another to win over the elements and in the case of Harding discouraging officiating

Apparently while the Prexies and Columbus players determined to play ball unmindful of the strong wind and heavy snow, the officials decided they could coast with their jobs Time after time a Harding or Columbus player would be offside, but only rarely would a red handkerchief show on the white snow.

OVER BUT NO SCORE. Twice Harding looked to have scored TDs only to have the officials rule "no score" Once Tom McClain lay stretched across the goal line and Chris Brady fumbled after crossing into TD territory. The rules state once a player crosses he can fumble the ball or even throw it up into the stands—it still goes as a score

It seems here that if players can stand up under the ordeal and fans can brave freezing weather to see a game in inclement weather the officials could at least turn in a creditable job Loose officiating is often responsible for a youngster being injured severely

NO PUN. The coolness (no pun meant) with which both Harding and St. Mary teams added the game-winning extra points in the final quarter speaks well for the young men under fire

The Prexies spread out and had not only the South team, but the press box brigade convinced they were going to try passing for the extra point. Jimmy Russell then put on a bursting drive that propelled him five-yards deep into the end zone

For St. Mary Jim Kilbury, Irish quarterback, who is one of the calmest in the business whether its football or basketball), toed the ball between the uprights into a stiff wind

STILL IN RUNNING. Harding's game with Fremont Ross here at the stadium Nov. 16 will decide the Buckeye League title Howison's crew has only a 27-27 tie against its record in league play while the Little Giants are unbeaten.

Should the Presidents win, the big trophy will come here. The visitors will rate as favorites, but the locals have been underdogs in most of their games so far and still have a good 5-2-1 record.

With a tough Sandusky eleven on the agenda for Friday, however, it isn't likely Harding will have much time for pointing ahead for Fremont.

Overconfidence could play a big part in the Ross encounter. Fremont News-Messenger Sports Editor Al Coxon has just about convinced the Little Giants they are the greatest thing since fluorescent lights.

Grid Dopesters Pick Up Fallen Averages

Forecasting the outcomes of prep football games with a higher degree of accuracy, The Star "guessers" enjoyed a better percentage the past week after a "bust" in the previous one

A. L. McClain stayed on top by clicking on 12 out of 14 Bill Diem and John Short tied for second with 11 right choices Bill Stanbro, leader until a week ago, had to settle with 10

STANDINGS

	W.	L.	Pct
McClain	74	22	.771
Stanbro	71	25	.740
Short	68	28	.708
Diem	66	30	.688

Dressen Back With Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Nov 6—(AP)—Chuck Dressen will be back as Brooklyn manager in 1952.

Dressen, although he hasn't signed a contract, was rehired yesterday for one year at a salary estimated at $30,000.

Brooklyn President Walter O'Malley announced the retention of Dressen in a press conference It came as no surprise Dodger second baseman Jackie Robinson confirmed rumors that Dressen would be retained last Friday in Los Angeles

O'Malley said, "Charley Dressen has not been signed for 1952—but he will be for one year as soon as he comes East"

Dressen, whose Dodgers blew a 13½ game lead and lost the National League pennant in a playoff to the New York Giants, was very happy over the news

"That's swell," Dressen said in Oakland, Calif "They've always treated me fair and I appreciate the way they deal with me"

OWU To Play 25 Cage Games

DELAWARE, O Nov 6—Ohio Wesleyan's 1951-52 basketball team will play 25 games including 18 Ohio Conference contests, according to the completed schedule announced today by Athletic Director George E Gauthler

The Battling Bishops, coached by Bob Steimer, will face five newcomers during the year. The new ones are Ashland, Wilmington, Case Tech, Akron, and Toledo The last three will be faced on a post-Christmas trip

The schedule follows Dec 4, Rio Grande, 7, Ashland; 13, at Ohio U; 15, Wilmington, 17, Denison, 28, at Case Tech, 29, at Akron, 31, at Toledo, Jan 5, at Heidelberg; 9, Capital; 12, at Baldwin-Wallace; 14, at Wittenberg, 16, at Kenyon; 22, at Otterbein, Feb 2, at Muskingum, 5, Heidelberg, 9, at Mt Union; 13, Kent State; 16, Otterbein; 19, at Denison; 21, at Oberlin; 23, Wittenberg, 28, at Capital, March 1 at Wooster, 4, Washington & Jefferson

Baker Beats Jimmy Bivins

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 6—(AP)—Fresh from his victory over crafty Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland, heavyweight Bob Baker told his Pittsburgh friends today he's "ready for the big time."

"That's where the money is and that's where I want to be," the husky boxer said after copping a unanimous decision from Bivins

The steel city Negro, boasting a 31-pound weight advantage over Bivins, had little trouble in last night's fight. He couldn't set up Bivins for a kayo although he's knocked out 17 men in his 25 pro fights. The 24-year-old Pittsburgher has yet to lose a professional contest.

Nothing Wrong With Football Says Red Grange

CHICAGO, Nov. 6—(AP)—Red Grange, Illinois' galloping ghost, doesn't think there is anything wrong with college football of today.

"I'm always hearing and reading that there's so much wrong with football," Grange told the Herald-American Quarterback Club yesterday. "There's nothing wrong with it It gives millions of people entertainment every week-end There may be some over-enthusiasm. My only gripe is that the over-enthusiasm didn't start 25 years ago I could have used an automobile"

Grange said that alumni should rant their schools to have good players.

"I took a kid out to lunch several times last summer trying to sell him Illinois. He wound up with Northwestern," he said.

Victory Over Wolves Gives Illini 2nd Spot

NEW YORK Nov 6—(AP)—Mighty Tennessee's football team is the country's No 1 college team for the third straight week in the estimation of the sports editors and broadcasters who participate in the weekly Associated Press poll

The Tennessee outfit, which trounced North Carolina Saturday, 27-0, snared 60 of the 152 first place votes and remained on top of the heap with 1,230 points The Vols were mentioned on every ballot and their placings ranged from first to tenth

The shake-up beneath the Southeastern Conference club, however, was terrific with idle Michigan State slumping all the way from second to fifth and Illinois, victor by 7-0 over Michigan in a snowstorm, climbing from third to second Maryland and Princeton also vaulted over the Spartans

Baylor and California dropped out of the select group, their places going to Stanford and Texas Below Michigan State came Southern California, Stanford, Georgia Tech Wisconsin and Texas in that order

Forty teams were mentioned on the flood of ballots one oddity being that every member of the Southwest circuit except Rice drew at least one vote

The voters pick Tennessee as the best by a margin of 80 points over Illinois, despite the declaration of Gen Bob Neyland, Vol coach who says his team is vastly overrated

"We make no claims at all for ourselves" he said after his club romped over North Carolina "We think there are many teams in the country better than we are We don't think we have the men on the schedule to be rated the best in the country"

The Tennessee schedule admittedly weak in the early stages, has Washington & Lee, defending Southern Conference champion following North Carolina Then the Vols take on three traditional Southeastern Conference foes in a row They are Mississippi Kentucky and Vanderbilt in that order

Face Irish

Michigan State, erstwhile runner-up, was idle last week-end while preparing for Notre Dame The Irish have been lolling in the second division since spilled by Southern Methodist but climbed to eleventh place today on the strength of their 19-0 pasting of Navy.

Tennessee (60)	1 230
Illinois (29)	1,150
Maryland (21)	1,019
Princeton (6)	997
Michigan State (12)	991
Southern California (6)	640
Stanford (8)	474
Georgia Tech (1)	383
Wisconsin (3)	344

Ratterman Back in Fold, Rejoins Yanks

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK, Nov 6—(AP)—Georgie (The Jumper) Ratterman rejoins the football Yanks today, after a season in Canada, and Coach Jimmy Phelan doesn't know what he's going to do with the guy . Though Ratterman did have a 48 percent average of completions last year and pitched 22 touchdown passes, Phelan points out he also had 24 interceptions And Jimmy already has a fair country passer in Bob Celeri . . . What's more, Jimmy points out, pro football has changed a lot in the last few seasons . . 'When Ratterman first attracted attention it was because of his faking They said he was better than Frankie Albert and all that," Phelan says "You can't get away with that any more Those converging defenses —the Eagles' defense I call it—close in on you and by the time you make two or three fakes, they're sitting on you . . . So you've got to go into a spread and then they have to get those 225-pound linebackers out and put in some faster men' . . The Yanks and most other teams, continue to use the "T" formation, Jimmy adds—but gosh, how the thing has changed.

* * *

The ultimate refinement in the platoon system of football is reported from Elkhorn County High School, near Frankfort Ky . . . Coach Allen Parr has only 13 players on his squad, so when he wants to scrimmage, he puts the right side of his line on offense and moves the left side into a defensive "platoon" against it Then reverses the setup to try plays to the left side . . What a spot to try a naked reverse!

* * *

Jack Lavelle, the rotund football scout, tabs Princeton's Charlie Caldwell as "a young Neyland,' but he still doesn't understand why Caldwell risked an injury to Dick Kazmaier by using him so much in the mud against Brown . . . First ticket order received for the Gerry Gerard memorial basketball game between North Carolina and Duke Dec 5 came from a Shreveport, La woman who wrote "I think this ball game is the most wonderful idea I ever heard of" . . Proceeds are to help pay for the education of Gerard's daughters . . Confusion item: Manager Ken Kitchel, checking the Lehigh runners in a cross country meet against Swarthmore, found he had ten times listed when he knew only nine men had made the trip . . Recheck showed that Bob Vekony had finished fifth, kept on jogging around the track and when another Swarthmore runner appeared, had automatically outsprinted him to the finish line.

The Kansas State film, "Basketball Highlights of 1950-51" has been shown by 19 television stations in eleven states and the District of Columbia Any coutt-rooms? . . . After a record 96-yard run, Oklahoma's Buck McPahl was pulled down from behind on the Kansas State two-yard-line last Saturday . . . As he climbed to his feet, Buck panted "Too much wind against me"

RYDER CUP MATCHES START Playing in a Scotch foursome, Horton Smith (center) introduces (left to right) James Adams and John Panton of the British Ryder Cup team and Lloyd Mangrum and Capt Sam Snead of the American team, to the gallery on the first tee before start of the Ryder Cup matches at Pinehurst, N C. America's Ryder Cup golfers took a three-one lead in the opening matches against the British professionals

Bright Ends Career With Jaw Injury

DES MOINES, Nov 6—(AP)—Johnny Bright college football's "Mr Offense" has played his last game for Drake University

The great Negro halfback the nation's all-time total offense leader reinjured his broken jaw last Saturday and yesterday was advised by a dental surgeon to quit The Bulldogs close their season at Wichita Saturday.

Bright, from Fort Wayne, Ind, received the broken jaw against Oklahoma A & M Oct 20 The incident brought Drake charges of "intentional attacks" upon Bright by an Aggie player and prompted a Missouri Valley Conference investigation

In his first game since the injury, Bright accounted for three touchdowns and 204 yards in three quarters of play to fire Drake to a 35-20 victory over Great Lakes

Bright—in three seasons—has gained 3,134 yards rushing and 2,769 passing for a total offense of 5 903 yards He has averaged 236 1 yards per game through 25 games and has figured in 364 points scored by Drake

The unexpected end to Bright's college career probably will cost him his total offense lead—a position he has held since sophomore year

SEE DEFEAT FOR COAST

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6—(AP)—The seventh Rose Bowl defeat of a Pacific Coast conference team in as many years was predicted during the weekly meeting of the Southern California football writers Coach Henry (Red) Sanders, UCLA, said yesterday that Illinois will trim anything the coast could field on New Year's Day in Pasadena. Coast teams have lost for the past six years

Small Schools In Great Comebacks

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, O., Nov 6—(AP)—Massillon's talented Tigers, gunning for their fourth straight state championship, were Ohio's No. 1 high school football team today.

But that's getting so old it isn't news anymore

So today's scholastic gridiron yarn, a "tale of two towns," belongs to a couple of little fellows—Butler and Brilliant.

Butler, in the lush farmlands of Richland County, didn't win a game in 1941 and 1942 The school gave up, but came back into the game in 1948 Then—the 1948, 1949 and 1950 teams didn't win a game, either

And Brilliant, where Massillon Coach Chuck Mather and Ohio State Assistant Harry Strobel got their start years ago, lost five straight in 1947, five in 1948, six in 1949, seven in 1950, and seven in 1951—a string of 30 defeats without a victory.

Long Stretch

Butler without a win over a 10-year stretch hired Fred Kreutzfeld of Port Clinton, a 1950 Ohio State grad, as coach this year Nine boys showed up for practice, and they had no uniforms The kids talked some of the others into turning out, and they had bake sales and scrap drives to buy uniforms.

Finally 18 boys were on the roster The first string averaged almost 160, but after that the weights dropped to around the 105-pound mark And how did the team fare?

Well, it romped over Bellville, Lodi, Plymouth (twice), Elm Valley, Roscoe and Wakeman, shutting out four of them and piling up 273 points to 24 for the opposition A clean season after that decade of drouth!

Kreutzfeld said, "We had speed. We used Wes Fesler's single wing attack, featuring the buck-lateral series. I didn't play football at State, so I just picked up some of Fesler's stuff and it worked fine for us."

And now back to Brilliant.

Here's how 37 Ohio newspaper and 11 radio sports editors rate the state's high school football teams this week First place votes in parentheses points on 10-8-6 etc basis

During its big football famine the Jefferson County team had been outscored 703 to 76 But last Friday the boys ran into Mt Pleasant, and Brilliant was the winner 32 to 0

Brilliant has a 17-man squad, coached by Kenneth Babb of Newell, W Va., who didn't play football at Fairmont State Brilliant took the whole thing in stride—the only celebration was at the homecoming dance.

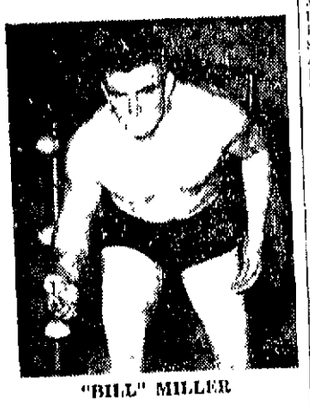
BIG BILL MILLER WRESTLES WILD BILL ZIMOVICH THURSDAY

ALSO NEW GIRL WRESTLERS



"BILL" MILLER

The crowds at the Armory have been getting bigger each week and so have the shows; in fact next Thursday's main event will be the "BIGGEST" ever seen there. Big Bill Miller who weighs 250 lbs. and stands 6 ft. 4 inches, will be meeting for the first time a wrestler just as "Big". Wild Bill Zimovich stands 6 ft. 3 inches and may top Miller's weight a couple of pounds. Zimovich is just about the most colorful heavy in the game, over a year ago this long haired grappler gave up wrestling to finish art courses at Ohio State and has been spending a lot of time painting.

Two new girl grapplers will take over the 60 minute 2 out 3 fall semi-final, Ida Mae will tangle with Lornin Johnson, both Nationally known.

The 8:30 match will also be all star with two new faces, Juan Hernandez, the uncrowned Mexican heavyweight champ from Mexico City meets Al Tucker one of the roughest and toughest in the game. Be sure of a good ringside by calling Markert & Lewis in Marion early. Prices, General $1.00, Ringside $1.50, Kids 50c.

Ohio State Leading In Home Attendance

NEW YORK, Nov. 6—(AP)—Ohio State led the nation today in attendance for home football games, according to a survey of 89 schools for the first half of the 1951 season.

The Buckeyes, in four home dates through Oct. 27, attracted 305,191 people. Michigan is right behind with 301,739 for four at home.

The survey showed college football is reversing the sports attendance slump with a 5 per cent increase. A similar check last season at the same time showed a 2 per cent decline with television catching the blame.

The East, where the new controlled TV policies of the N.C.A.A. would seem to have most effect, shows a surprising 14 per cent increase. The South and Far West each are up 6 per cent.

Midwest attendance remains almost at an even keel with a slight dip of .002 or about 64 paid per game. The Southwest is down 3 per cent.

Ohio State, for three home games at this period last year, had drawn 235,983.

Great Salt Lake Level At 20-Yr. High

Rises Six Feet In Last Ten Years; Resort Benefits

SALT LAKE CITY — (UP) — Great Salt Lake, the nation's largest inland sea, has reached its highest point in nearby 20 years.

The area around the lake is so flat that a rise of a foot or less greatly increases its size and reduces the salt content.

Saltair, widely-known resort area on the southeast edge of the lake, was left dry as lake waters receded a decade ago. The resort, built on 2,500 piles driven into the lake bottom, has been surrounded once again by water.

When the lake reached its all-time low in 1940 of 4191.35 feet above sea level, bathers at the resort had to ride a specially built train to reach water only a few inches deep.

The level of the lake is now 4199.1 feet above sea level and the six foot increase has boosted water to a depth of more than five feet under the pavilion.

Saltiness Varies

The lake's saltiness varies from year to year in proportion to the amount of water. When the lake was at its highest point in 1873, the salt content of the water was only 13 percent. In 1940, the lake was saturated with salt—27.6 percent.

At that point, salt precipitates. The water can't hold any more in solution.

For a rough idea of just how salty it is, mix one cup of salt with three cups of water, stir well and taste.

The salt water is so buoyant that a person cannot sink. Thousands flock to the lake each year from all over the world for the unique experience of "floating like a cork."

Mormon pioneers settled the valley in 1847 and in 1850 records of the lake's depth, size and salt content were started.

Lake Lacks Outlet

Streams in the nearby Wasatch Mountains flow into the lake via the Jordan and Bear Rivers. However, there is no outlet, and that accounts for the lake's saltiness.

Today's Great Salt Lake is merely a puddle in the basin of prehistoric Lake Bonneville. During and following the great ice age, Lake Bonneville covered nearly all the western portion of Utah, parts of southern Idaho and western Nevada.

It was nearly the size of Lake Michigan—310 miles long and 145 miles wide.

Various levels of old Lake Bonneville are clearly marked by shorelines on Utah's mountains, especially in Great Salt Lake and Utah Valleys. At the lake's highest point the water level was 1,000 feet higher than the top of the tiered Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City.

Geologists say that the lake ate through soft rock at Red Rock Pass near the Utah-Idaho border. A huge gorge was created and in a relatively short time the lake dropped hundreds of feet. The river resulting was believed to be one of the largest in the history of the earth.

Slowly Reduced

The lake reduced slowly to approximately its present size through several dry ages after it had dropped below the pass. Since that time it has never had an outlet.

POWER OF SUGGESTION

ALLIANCE, Neb. —(UP)— A photographer for the Alliance Times-Herald noticed that people at an exhibit here were jumpier than usual when his flash bulbs went off. The occasion was an "atomic age" exhibit.

The biggest gold nugget ever found was 54 inches long, 31 inches thick and weighed 195 pounds.

Jail For Sale Cheap But It's No Bargain

JACKSON, Mich. —(UP)— The county board of supervisors played it straight when it wrote a classified advertisement to sell the 37-year-old county jail. It said:

"For sale—one jail. Complete with cockroaches, sagging stairways, corroded plumbing, sunken ceilings and crumbling walls. A real antique. Fine location with practically no view. Purchase price includes one light bulb per cell block, boiling urn for cell doors and genuine firetrap furnace arrangement. Act quickly. This won't last long. It can't. Inquire county board of supervisors."

Only the U. S. and Canada have real Indian summer with bright days and chilly nights in proper proportion.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Cracks In Cement Work

Q: We closed in our carport and made an additional room. Although the mason used rods to join the old beams with the new cement work, we are beginning to notice cracks in the joints. We have used a stucco paint but that is cracking at the joints. Is there any kind of filler that we could use to seal in those cracks, as they are unsightly? I am afraid that during our heavy rains there may be some seepage.

A: You do not say who e the cracks occur, but I assume they are in the walls. If so, the open joints can be filled with a caulking compound applied with a caulking gun. Further widening of the joints might indicate weakness in the footings or softness of the soil supporting the footings. This should be checked by a competent builder or foundation contractor.

Wet Plaster Around Windows

Q: I have steel sash, and the moisture on the metal is so great that the plaster adjoining it is becoming soft. I was told there is a way to eliminate this without using storm sash.

A: Cut away about a three-inch-wide strip of the plaster next to the metal then fill space with a wood molding. This molding before being put in place, should be given a couple of coats of a chemical wood preservative, and then a coat of aluminum paint. Of course this does not eliminate the need of storm sash, because your windows will continue to sweat and will also continue to lose heat through the glass.

Installing Ceramic Wall Tiles

Q: I would like to know if there is a method of applying ceramic wall tile by the use of mastic cement similar to steel wall tile.

A: There is a special type of adhesive black in color and made with rubber base, that you can get for the application of ceramic tiles. This can be done on existing walls of on walls of gypsum wallboard. Dealers who sell tile either stock or can get this adhesive for you.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

The Underwoods, Bess Conway and I nodded assent to my father's question—we knew he did not wish to bother with words—and he pulled Mildred Grey to her feet, and with his hand under her arm went with her to the room in which he just had interviewed Bess Conway.

I do not think any of us let go our breath as they walked across the room. But when the door closed behind them, we gave a united sight of relief and settled back into our chairs.

"Whew!" Harry Underwood ejaculated, at the end of a long muted whistle. "Did any of you ever see a more neatly turned trick, even from the lariat of the master?"

"Never!" Lillian, Bess Conway and I chorused.

He cocked a knowing eyebrow at us.

"Now we'll listen to the 'I told-you-so' chorus," he said. "And I'll lead it. I knew he'd come up with some solution like this for Mildred's problem."

"It had to be something which would enable her to change her financial status at the school," I said.

"Granted," Lillian commented. "But she'll have to do some tall explaining, and her story mustn't have any holes in it."

"I imagine that he has that all figured out, and even now is plotting her course for her," I said.

"And a very ingenious course it will be," Bess Conway contributed. "I've seen him in action so many times. I don't believe there's a problem in living which he couldn't solve."

"The gal will have two problems beside her own personal one of changing from penury to affluence," Harry Underwood drawled.

"Such as?" his wife prompted.

"Her parents and Bill," he answered promptly. "Of course the Chief has hypnotized her into thinking she's called to be the Maid of Orleans reincarnated, but Bill and her folks are going to look at the project more realistically."

A little shiver traveled down my spine at his words, for they voiced an inward fear which had been troubling me. But Lillian, as usual, came promptly to my rescue.

"I don't think anybody needs to worry about her parents," she said. "She shows the stock from which she comes, patriotic, high-minded Americans. They'll approve of her doing the work, and they'll welcome the easing of their financial strain. But Bill is something else again. His masculine protective ego is going to clamor for expression all over the lot."

"I know," I said, "but I think Dicky can manage Bill."

"He can," Harry said, "if some of you highly idealized females don't fondle the notion that Mildred should be the first one to tell Bill what has happened."

"Oh, but of course she must be!" Lillian, Bess Conway and I chorused.

"What did I tell you?" Harry countered, with the air of a man totally wearied of life. "You're all sensible and practical dames, much as I dislike handing out the posy. But when sentiment knocks at your brain portals, common sense flies out of the windows."

"That's something you'll never have to worry about," his wife told him tartly. "Common sense couldn't fly out your brain window, because it never was inside it in the first place."

"Thank you so much, Sweetie Pie," Harry said in an exaggerated squeak, and when we awarded him the laugh for which he had worked, I put a question to him.

"Have you perhaps some idea of how best to brief Bill about this new developement?" I asked.

Congressman On Program Of Lions Club

Betts Speaks On Views Formed In His First Session

Congressman Jackson E. Betts of Findlay, representing the Eighth Ohio district, was introduced by Charlton Myers as guest speaker when the Lions Club met Monday noon at Hotel Harding.

The congressman, who is serving his first term, gave viewpoints of Congress as a newcomer sees the body at work.

He remarked that as a representative of the people, a congressman is guided by opinion of the people in his district, conveyed to him through letters, but he should not be pressured or unduly influenced.

Welcomes Public's Views

The congressman expressed his wish that more people write to him giving their views on matters before Congress.

"Bills today do not deal with just one item," he noted, "but many bills are combined, each section dealing with one phase of the over-all picture." He gave tax bills as an example.

The tendency of Congress to reduce expenditures is apparent as amendments from the floor cut down the figures in tax and aid bills, Mr. Betts said. Economy in government, he added, would result in fewer bureaus, agencies and services by the government.

Lists Top Bills

Mr. Betts listed the most important legislative measures in the last session of Congress as being the tax bill, Foreign Aid Bill, Defense Production Bill and Military Aid Bill.

He predicted that the work in next session of Congress would in all probability be the same as the last, replacing laws that have expired or will expire.

Guests at the meeting, introduced by John Luginbuhl, were R. I. Butterworth, Ray Henninger, Don Yoder, E. G. Siefert, Don Schuster, J. H. Walker, Milton Weston, Ted Parsell and Dale Brown, all of Marion; Dick Elson of Ashland, Bill Cunningham and Ray Clark, both of Detroit.

Announcement was made that Marion Hinklin's team is first in the attendance contest, with one week to go.

Heart Graft Possible, Say U.S. Surgeons

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 6—(AP)—Two or three years from now it may be possible for a person to use someone else's heart for a few minutes while the doctors repair his own defective ticker.

Some day a person may live with an extra heart grafted into his abdomen. Beating along independently of the diseased heart in his chest, it would help to keep his body supplied with blood.

These prospects were put before the American College of Surgeons today by two groups of researchers.

The borrowed heart technique was worked out on dogs by seven University of California doctors. Theoretically the method should work also on humans but numerous little "bugs" have to be disposed of before it can be tried in the operating room.

One of the main arteries of the donor dog is piped to an arterial main in the recipient dog. A big vein of the recipient is piped to the veins of the donor. The heart of the recipient is in effect short-circuited and drained of blood. It continues to beat but pumps nothing.

The recipient dog's heart thus is "dry" and can be worked on by the surgeon while the heart of the donor dog pumps blood for both animals.

When the hookup is disconnected, the recipient dog's heart takes over its own pumping job.

Your Good Health

A Great Hazard of Pregnancy

At one time, the toxemia of pregnancy claimed the lives of a large number of mothers and infants. Since prenatal care for expectant mothers has become almost universal, the number of women suffering from this complication has been much reduced, due to the fact that any tendency toward toxemia can be detected at the outset and precautions taken against it.

A woman expecting a baby should see her physician at least once a month, at which time her blood pressure, urine, and weight are carefully checked. Some indications of beginning toxemia are excessive weight gain, elevation of the blood pressure, and the appearance of albumin in the urine. A woman who has any of these symptoms should be carefully watched and treated so that a severe toxemia does not develop. Usually, the use of a low-salt or sodium diet, sedative drugs and bed rest are helpful in these early cases. Many times, when toxemia has progressed too far, the use of large amounts of sedative drugs may be necessary and, in severe cases, the early delivery of the baby may be required.

Most physicians wish to prolong pregnancy as long as possible in order to give the baby a better chance for life.

A group of eight pregnant women gravely ill with toxemia, having high blood pressure, albumin in the urine and swelling of the body, were treated with cortisone to see if the toxemia could be somewhat relieved and the pregnancy carried nearer to the time it normally would be due. Three of these women were so severly ill that they had convulsions and seizures.

Questions and Answers

K. K.: Is there anything which might stop excessive falling of the hair, and relieve itching of the scalp?

Answer: Falling hair may be due to your general condition, since such things as anemia and poor digestion are sometimes responsible.

If the hair is dry and brittle, it may be well to use an ointment of sulphur in petrolatum. This should be rubbed on the hair and into the scalp at night, once a week, leaving it on until the next morning, when the hair should be washed with castile soap and warm water. The hair should not be washed more than once a week. Massaging the scalp sometimes helps.

Lima Man Denies Elida Bank Robbery

TOLEDO, Nov. 6—(AP)—In an arraignment before U.S. Commissioner John J. Barone yesterday, William D. Metzger, 23, of Lima, O., pleaded not guilty to participating in the armed robbery of the Farmers' Bank, Elida, O. His bond was set at $15,000.

Three men fled with about $3,200 from the bank last Oct. 17.

Metzger, the father of two children, was arrested by FBI agents Friday at the Pines Restaurant, Lima, operated by his parents.

RADAR CLASS PARTY

The Radar Class of Trinity Baptist Church held its monthly meeting recently in the form of a Halloween party in a barn at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Brewer near Marion. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Johnston were in charge of entertainment. Mr. and Mrs. James Turner, Mrs. Billy Myers, and Mrs. Brewer served refreshments. Guests were Mrs. Starling Weston and Miss Phyllis Albert.

Defense Rests In Columbus Murder Trial

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6—(AP)—Henry A. Koontz, president of the Columbus city council, was one of eight character witnesses yesterday for George Phillips, on trial for the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Alter.

The others were neighbors and associates of the 23-year-old Columbus insurance salesman, who is charged with second-degree murder.

Mrs. Alter, 32, was beaten and strangled to death in her Columbus home on April 25. Her 17-day-old baby was the only witness.

With the character witnesses, defense attorney Paul M. Herbert rested his case. He has tried to show that Phillips was not at Mrs. Alter's home on the day of the slaying.

Mrs. Gladys Morehart of Columbus testified Phillips had collected an insurance premium from her between 11:40 a.m. and noon on April 25. Previous witnesses had accounted for Phillips' whereabouts from 8 to 11 a.m. and from noon to 1:35 p.m.

Phillips himself testified he had eaten lunch and gone to a bowling alley after 1:35 p.m.

Bartlett has summoned 10 rebuttal witnesses for Wednesday. The trial was recessed today.

Foremen At Shovel Hear ONU Dean

Dr. Hickman Talks On Economic Phase Of Cold War

Dr. Warren Hickman, Dean of Ohio Northern University, discussed economic conditions of the "Cold War" before the Foremen's Club of the Marion Power Shovel Co. Saturday night at Hotel Harding.

Dr. Hickman noted that the cold war has gone on for years, but sees not actual fighting with Russia, not within the next 10 years. "Russia is not building war products today," he pointed out. "Russia is building an immense industrial machine which in turn builds additional plants for production."

It has been found, the dean continued, that Russian tanks used in Korea are old and were built for World War II. He explained that the jet planes Russia is making are for experimental purposes.

There is no immediate threat of war in Europe or in the United States," Dr. Hickman stated. "War will start in the Balkan countries."

In regards to United States economy, he noted that a false economy is resulting from manufacturing war materials which in a few years will be obsolete.

The United States is paying $5½ billion interest on the war debt each year. The debt of World War II amounted at $360 billion. The dean predicted that another war will cost the United States $1 trillion.

At the Foremen's Club's next meeting, Dec. 1, E. B. Trotter, secretary of the Athletic Association at Ohio State University, will be narrator as he shows films of the Buckeyes' football team in action.

450 Marion Co. 4-H'ers Take Part in Achievement Week

These young people in the painting for the 1952 National 4-H Calendar symbolize the club members who celebrate the fulfillment of their year's project work during National 4-H Club Achievement Week

* * *

Nearly 450 Marion County 4-H Club members join with the other two million 4-H'ers in reviewing their year's project work and club activities during National 4-H Club Achievement Week, Nov. 3, 11.

These rural young people look at the results of their work as a basis for "making the best better" as they dream and plan for the future.

Four-H Clubs make up the largest rural youth organization in the world. Boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21 may belong. These young people organize into clubs on a community basis under the guidance of a man or woman advisor (who serves voluntarily). As a club they plan and conduct their own program aimed at the four square development of rural youth. The four H's stand for the Head, Heart, Hand and Health— the mental, moral, social, and physical sides of individual growth.

Four-H Clubs, as the youth program of the Ohio State University's Agricultural Extension Service, are basically educational. Members learn principles of farming and home making in the 38 4-H clubs in Marion County. These principles are taught through projects in cooking, sewing, livestock and crop production, home making and agricultural engineering.

Line Snaps, Cuts Power To 500,000

AKRON, O., Nov. 6—(AP)—Ohio Edison Co. employes began repair today on a snapped tension wire which caused a power failure affecting some 500,000 persons.

The line carrying 138,000 volts went down at 6:12 p. m. last night and power was off here and in surrounding communities from 25 minutes to an hour and 20 minutes. Parts of Youngstown also were affected.

When the wire snapped an overload landed on the firm's feeder line from the Ohio Power Co. at Akron. That blew out a number of circuit breakers.

Deputy sheriffs in the Portage Lakes area blocked off the area where the line broke. Ohio Edison later brought in electricity from other systems.

Surrounding communities hit, included Barberton, Kent, Cuyahoga Falls, Boston Heights, Hudson, Twinsburg, Macedonia and Medina.

The shortage stopped machinery at the B. F. Goodrich Co., the Seiberling Rubber Co. and at one Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. plant.

Hospitals and department stores depended on flashlights and candles. One operation was postponed.

Hold Community Day at Galion

Special to The Star

GALION, Nov. 6—Speaking at the observance of World Community Day observance Friday at First Presbyterian Church, Mrs. Harry C. Long of Akron, urged church women to "Keep strong faith in God, and also faith in one another," in order to meet the challenge as church women.

Mrs. Long is state chairman of Radio of the Ohio Council of Church Women. The observance, here, was sponsored by the Galion Council of Church Women.

The sum of $50 was collected to purchase new blankets which will be prepared for shipment overseas.

Mrs. John J. Godfrey presided for the meeting, Mrs. Charles Geiger played the organ for singing, and prayers were offered by Mrs. O. E. Knepp and Mrs. Godfrey. The program chairman was Mrs. Gene Wilcox.

Today's Birthday

JAMES ERRETT SHELTON, born Nov. 6, 1886, in Colusa, Calif., is former president of the American Bankers Association representing more than 16,000 banks.

Shelton knew hard days in his youth.

After his father died and the mortgage was foreclosed on the family farm, he and his brother took turns staying out of school a year to support their mother.

The first coin authorized by the United States Congress was an 1887 penny.

Open Trial Of Newark Woman In Love Slaying

NEWARK, O., Nov. 6—(AP)—The prosecution was expected to begin its case today in the first degree murder trial of Miss Joanne Thomas, 25-year-old Newark woman charged with the slaying of Frank Rizzo, 30, a fruit market clerk.

Still to be selected are a 12th juror and one alternate. Eleven jurors, six women and five men, were tentatively chosen yesterday.

Judge Charles Holtsberry said he would recess the trial at noon today to give the jurors a chance to vote.

Prosecutor Forrest Ashcraft said he had subpenaed 18 witnesses to present the states' case. Defense attorney J. Dale McNamer is expected to base his defense on temporary insanity.

Rizzo was shot four times in the chest with a .22 caliber pistol at his brother's fruit market. The brother told police that after the shooting Miss Thomas knelt at the side of the body crying: "I love you, I love you, Frank."

MAYOR TAKE ACTION

OSWEGO, N. Y.—(UP)—When Mayor Frank L. Gould was taken ill, his trip to the hospital was delayed because the city's only ambulance was out on another call. After he was released, he bought a second ambulance out of his own funds and turned it over to the city as a standby for emergencies such as his own.

Manufacturers Discuss Business Conditions

Local business conditions were discussed when the Manufacturers Council of the Chamber of Commerce met for a luncheon-meeting Monday at Hotel Harding.

The group concluded that business is good and that shortages are not as acute as expected, although there may be a more severe shortage of metals in the future.

Irresponsible Leaders

EVERYTIME there is a wildcat strike in a vital industry, it represents a revolt against some union organization which has made a contract with management.

Every wildcat strike is an unauthorized work stoppage. If these strikes become widespread, which is the prediction of Victor Riesel, who keeps a close watch over union conditions, they will mean that responsible leadership has been shoved aside by irresponsible leadership. They will mean that contracts between unions and management are scraps of paper, unless unions can control their own members.

But most disheartening of all, an epidemic of wildcat strikes will mean that the wildcatters are able to betray union members at will by taking advantage of the members' ignorance about their own affairs. It is no secret that many of the wildcatters are in sympathy with the Communist conspiracy and are staging a demonstration of strength. The only thing that makes this possible is their ability to appeal to union members over the heads or behind the backs of their leaders. The wildcatters are betraying the union movement from the inside out.

United States Takes the Lead

THE report from Paris that the United States will propose a worldwide arms census to the United Nations assembly marks a minor triumph.

This government's most serious shortcoming in the battle for men's minds has been failure to wage a relentless offensive on the theme of peace. Though the United States took the initiative in formation of the United Nations and did not dispair of peace until the Soviet Union's obstructionism raised the prospect of a third world war, it has been letting the Kremlin exploit the peace theme both in Europe and in Asia.

Europeans and Asiatics have been allowed to regard the United States as a military power obsessed by the theory that cooperative security can be achieved by sheer weight of weapons and manpower. That is precisely the point of view which the Kremlin's propaganda wants Europeans and Asiatics to have—that Americans are preparing for war, nothing else.

The Soviet Union's diplomatic line has been to exploit the worldwide yearning for peace. It has been more successful than U.S. diplomats have liked to admit. That is why their proposal for a worldwide arms census marks at least a minor triumph. The State Department has proved it is not the prisoners of its own previous thought on how best to fight the battle for men's minds.

Waiting and Seeing

THE old-fashioned winter is back. The antibiotics, which were going to revolutionize medical practice, are reported to be losing their power to fight germs to a standstill. The Pentagon has sent Infantrymen to the New Mexico desert to get them accustomed to atom warfare. Apparently, the 20th century is not going to bring mild winters, immunity to germs, or push-button warfare after all.

There is still time in the 20th century for a revival of interest in prudence, mental honesty and tolerance. Many other things which seemed to be impossible are not necessarily impossible at all.

The United Nations has not saved the world, nor is the Soviet Union going to destroy it. Vitamins are still going strong, but there is a trend away from tonsilectomy. Psychiatry seems to be a better bet for improving mankind at the moment. But psychiatry, too, shall pass away.

Waiting and seeing is still the best code of conduct for skeptical individuals who were tempted to think as recently as one year ago that this part of the world was going to have a cycle of mild winters.

Easiest Solution

A DECISION by Western Union Telegraph Co. to stop selling its services to certain gambling enterprises is the hardest blow yet struck at this form of organized crime.

Off-track betting on horse races and all kinds of gambling which requires the use of public communication facilities could be made impossible by decisions such as the one made by Western Union. The verdict of a jury in New Jersey against Western Union for maintaining a "disorderly house" where persons placed bets forced the decision.

Traditionally, the operators of telegraph and telephone companies have gone along with public law enforcement whenever there was proof that their facilities were being used for illegal purposes. But they have refused to make up their own minds in the absence of proof, or at least in the absence of a direct request to discontinue service.

Yet the fact always has been that the operators of telegraph and telephone services have known for their own purposes what their facilities were being used for. The dasiest solution of the problem of organized gambling always has been to start at the beginning—the communications which made organized gambling possible.

Speaking of Coattails

By Raymond Moley

No Ride-in Likely for Congress Candidates

BOTH Taft and Eisenhower Republicans should avoid too bitter a fight for the nomination. For without real party unity after next year's convention, the ticket nominated cannot hope to win the election.

Truman himself would be no pushover. Vinson would be more difficult. That in itself should be a warning.

But there is another consideration that is a still greater portent.

Time was when a successful presidential candidate swept in a House and Senate majority on his broad coattails. It didn't matter much who ran for those offices, which were regarded as minor and inconsequential. Most of the money collected was spent electing the President. Candidates for the Senate and House were left to shift for themselves.

MOLEY

In 1936 millions were spent by the Democratic National Committee in running up an unnecessary majority for Roosevelt. That year I learned from the Democratic House campaign chairman that his committee had received only $15,000 from the National Committee. Distributed evenly, that meant $35 for each candidate. But even allowing for further grants from the National Committee after the time I learned that from the House campaign chairman, and allowing for money contributed directly in the districts, these candidates went on short rations. "Never mind," they were told, "the Great White Father will win and all you children will win in his wake." He did and they did—in 1936.

* * *

THINGS HAVE CHANGED a great deal since then. Coattail riding is no longer the rule—at least riding on the presidential coattails. The presidential candidate is more likely in 1952 to need the multitudiness tails of the congressmen. This being true, the Republican party can do most toward electing a President next year by giving a great deal of attention to the election of a good majority in the House of Representatives.

A favorite pastime of might-have-been people is to poke around in the ruins of a political defeat hoping to find solace and profit. Looking back at the 1933 holocaust, they have figured that a shift of 30,000 votes in Ohio, Illinois and California would have elected Dewey instead of Truman. But if 30,000 votes could have been shifted in Senate races, the Republicans would have won four more Senate seats. And if 30,000 votes had been shifted in House races, there would have been 20 more GOP House members. Then in 1950 there would have been a chance to elect majorities in both houses.

* * *

THE COATTAIL DELUSION was fatal to Republicans in 1940. There were 24 "critical" or close House districts in seven of the states that Dewey carried in that year. Local Democrats aided by the CIO-PAC really worked to win those seats. They succeeded in 21 of the 24. Dewey carried these states, but his victory carried only three of the critical districts. This is fairly good proof that the coattail strategy was not working.

In that same election, the Republicans lost 75 House seats, and half of them were in states carried by Dewey.

The CIO-PAC people awakened to this new condition long before 1948 and shifted their tactics. They concentrated on Congress. Hence, when they turned out the vote in districts for their favorite House candidates, they helped elect Truman, too.

The lesson to those who are thinking only of Taft or Eisenhower is that even if they elect their man, they may well deliver him over to a Democratic Congress. For neither the tailless jacket of Eisenhower nor the tweeds of Taft can elect a friendly Congress.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

DEAR Nephew: No one around here wants to know what I think about the outcome of the British elections, this being an outpost of isolationism in the U.S.A. And to tell you the truth I am not interested, because I think it's more important to me that we get some trustees in this township who will scrape the roads.

I think that would have more effect on me and my neighbors than anything I could do to sway the outcome of events in Britain. And as for puckering my brow and giving out with badly-educated guesses on what it means to have Churchill be the new prime minister with a minority mandate, I pass.

Maybe the British know what it means when we elect a president, which is more than most of us know, but I doubt if Americans are smart enough to handle this assignment, I doubt if we are smart enough to handle a lot of assignments we are latching on to these days.

"We are becoming the busiest outfit of political quacks on earth, with our everlasting prescriptions for other people who have lived for hundreds of years when we, ourselves, still don't know for sure that we can reach a mere 200. Don't misquote me; I have not turned against the doctrine of the good neighbor. But I reserve the right to define what I mean by a "good neighbor."

He does not have his nose in my business. He does not assume he is smarter than I am. He does not yell at me when I make a mistake. He does not talk behind my back. He does not get me involved in his quarrells. He does not second-guess me, tell me how hard I should work, or make me painfully aware that he is loaded with mazuma and I am a stumble-bum.

If I want to take a nap in the middle of the day, he lets me. He does not run his lawn mower if I am sleeping late on Sunday morning. He has a decent respect for my ideas, even though I know that he thinks I am dead wrong about a lot of things. And he would no more think of invading my privacy than he would think of nibbing into one of my own private fights, unless I hollered for help.

My idea of a good neighbor is one who gives me a good letting alone, unless I ask him to help me. My idea of being a good neighbor is the same. I try to follow the inverse Golden Rule—I do not do to others what I would not want them to do to me. As I understand it, that makes me an isolationist. Or as I think I told you once before, that makes me the kind of a fellow who does not try to get into a bathroom if the door is closed, because I construe a closed door as mute evidence of someone's desire to be in privacy. It looks to me as if some of our good people here in the U.S.A. were more than half persuaded that it is their duty to barge into bathrooms on the assumption that the person who is in there needs help.

Give my highest regards to the family. It won't be long until Thanksgiving now, will it? Your Aunt Effie wants to be remembered to everybody too, as if anybody could forget her.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

In the early days of Marion County, as in other pioneer localities, the church societies were the social centers of the community. Usually the church preceded the school and often the church building was used for a school. More often than not, the schoolhouse served in the double capacity of church and school. Preaching was done by missionaries and circuit riders.

More Facts About Our Errors in China

By George E. Sokolsky

ADMIRAL CHARLES MAYnard Cooke was in charge of the "Pennsylvania" at Pearl Harbor, he had been chief of staff to Admiral King during World War II. He was in command of the Seventh Fleet from 1946 to 1948. He was in command of all American combat forces in China after General Wedemeyer left that country.

In view of this record, the McCarran committee therefore summoned him to come to Washington from Formosa where he is now engaged in a commercial enterprise, having retired from the Navy. In his testimony before the McCarran committee, he filled in a number of gaps in our information concerning the American relations with China, which are now of tremendous importance to us because it is on account of our errors in that country that we are fighting in Korea with at least 100,000 casualties. The following is extremely pertinent:

SOKOLSKY

"Senator Ferguson. Do you know anything about the supply of ammunition to the Nationalist troops?

"Mr. Cooke. Yes. After (Wedemeyer) left, around the 1st of August, 1946, the supply was cut off.

"Senator Ferguson. Why?

"Mr. Cooke. Well, I didn't do it, and I can't say why.

"Senator Ferguson. Did General Marshall ever discuss that with you?

"Mr. Cooke. He discussed it in general without making too much comment except that he made the observation to me that we, meaning the United States, had armed the Chinese, and now we were disarming them. In other words, we had undertaken to equip 30-odd Chinese divisions, equip them with guns and things of that kind, and then we stopped the flow of ammunition and made a complete embargo, so we didn't supply it or wouldn't let them buy it for a period of about 10 months, I believe. He just made that observation to me, that is all. He wasn't called on to do it, but he did do it.

"Senator Ferguson. It amounted to disarming them because they were not getting the ammunition for the weapons we had supplied them"

"Mr. Cooke. That is right.

"Senator Ferguson. What effect would the arming of the Nationalists have had as far as the Communists were concerned?

"Mr. Cooke. Of course, the Communists were being very well supplied in Manchuria by the Russians from arsenals and from captured Japanese guns and ammunition. We were practically certain that was going on, and of course in our White Paper reported from our diplomatic representatives in Moscow that it was going on . . .

"Senator Ferguson. And General Marshall had told you that of course that amounted to the disarming of the Nationalists?

"Mr. Cooke. Yes."

* * *

THIS CHINESE Communist army was built up, while the Nationalists were disarmed, and now we are fighting the Chinese Communists in Korea. And for a number of years, our State Department issued propaganda to the effect that the Chinese Communists were buying American arms from corrupt Nationalists.

The State Department has also made many statements of sending supplies to Chiang Kai-shek which were wasted. I have from time to time stated that there was an embargo against the Nationalists while the Communists were being supplied. Here is Admiral Cooke's sworn testimony on the subject:

"Mr. Morris. What was the nature of the embargo, Admiral Cooke?

"Mr. Cooke. The United States would supply no combat equipment of any kind, including ammunition, and they wouldn't allow the Chinese to buy any in the United States. Eventually I think they bought some spare parts and maybe some transport planes, no combat planes but transport planes like C-47s and C-46s.

"Mr. Morris. Will you tell us when this embargo went into effect?

"Mr. Cooke. I can't tell you exactly, but it was about the 1st of August, 1946.

"Mr. Morris. How long did that stay in force?

"Mr. Cooke. Until the following May.

"Mr. Morris. May, 1947?

"Mr. Cooke. Yes.

"Mr. Morris. During the time that that was in force was the Chinese government able to buy any equipment in the United States?

"Mr. Cooke. Not so far as I know. I am fairly sure not."

* * *

SURREPTITIOUS arrangements were made to permit the Chinese Nationalists to take obsolescent munitions which the Marines had dumped in Tsingtao. The only objection to aiding the Nationalists in this way came from John Carter Vincent. Here is the record:

"Senator Ferguson. What did (Vincent) say?

"Mr. Cooke. He just said we ought to figure out a way to destroy it (the munitions).

"Senator Ferguson. And not give it to the Nationalists?

"Mr. Cooke. That is right . . .

"Actually we designated a place there where we were going to take it, and we told them we were going to put it there. We didn't tell them were were going to give it to them, but we were putting it in this place, and they did come and get it, and of course they did use it . . .

"Senator Ferguson. Did Mr. Vincent assign any reason for not giving it to the Chinese Nationalists in the way you proposed?

"Mr. Cooke. He just indicated it was undesirable to do so."

First Baby Ruffles 65-Year-Old Dad

WOOD RIVER, Ill.— (UP) — While Arthur Higgins and his wife awaited the birth of their child, he turned to poetry to soothe his frazzled nerves.

One of the poems went:

"What a thrill we'll get when it's over,
When we here our first baby cry.
We'll rock him to sleep in the cradle so deep,
And sing him a sweet lullaby."

The other day a 7-pound boy, named Arthur James Higgins, was born to the 40y-ear-old Mrs. Higgins.

"I think this will be the limit," said Higgins, a 65-year-old retired oil company foreman.

Clanging Bell Calls Grandparents

CORINTH, Miss.—(UP)—Eight-year-old Estelle Anderson and her three-year-old brother James have found a modern use for an old-fashioned country dinner bell—they use it in place of a telephone.

In Civil War days, the 40-pound bell was used to call field hands in for dinner. In World War II, it was used as a blackout signal, and it could be heard for miles.

Now when the Anderson children want their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hinton, to come visit them from their home several miles away, they just ring the old bell.

Both families have telephones, but the kids say the bell is much better.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO—It was Thursday, Nov. 6, 1941.

President Roosevelt, in addressing 250 delegates representing 33 nations at the concluding session of the international labor office conference in the East Room of the White House, declared that the American people had made "an unlimited commitment" that there shall be a free world, and called on all free nations to plan for a sound social and economic world order after the war.

The menace of German submarine raids in the North Atlantic raised speculation in naval circles that a complete turnabout in strategy, subordinating the use of convoys, might prove the eventual answer to the U-boat wolf pack technique.

More than 500 women, representing 30 different groups of the Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service in the Lima District, attended a fall rally in Epworth Methodist Church. Among officers installed was Mrs. C. R. Alkin of Marion Epworth Church, who took office as vice president and program chairman.

A daughter, Shirley Kay, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn of 559 Decatur St.

Mrs. Robert McCormick was hostess when members of the Fortnightly Study Club entertained with a guest party at Ringer's Inn. Mrs. Frank Judy, president, welcomed the guests.

TWENTY YEARS AGO—It was Friday, Nov. 6, 1931.

Foundation for a comprehensive campaign to collect delinquent personal tax in Marion County was to be laid Nov. 10 with reading of names of persons who had failed to pay tax on their personal property in recent years. The list was to be read before the county commissioners as required by the statutes before a collector could be employed to enforce payment. County records disclosed a delinquency totaling $106,010.

Misses Colleen Good and Thelma Ulrich of Upper Sandusky were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fetter of Oak street.

The Ladies Bible Class of Forest Lawn Presbyterian Church held its fourth annual memorial meeting for Mrs. Adam Krug, mother of Mrs. J. M. Newby.

John Stengel Jr., recently re-elected head of Marion Grove, United Ancient Order of Druids, was officially installed for his new term.

Floyd Uncapher was elected master of Mt. Olive Grange.

Dorothy Jane Fetter was given a surprise party by 35 of her friends from Central Junior High School at her home on Bain Ave. The party was planned by Dorothy Jean Elliott to celebrate Miss Fetter's fourteenth birthday anniversary.

Waldo W.S.C.S. Holds Visitation Meeting Oct. 31

Special to The Star

WALDO, Nov. 6—The W.S.C.S. of the Waldo Methodist Church observed Progressive Visitation Day, Oct. 31, when they met in the church annex.

This was a special meeting to increase interest and membership of the W.S.C.S. All women of the church were invited and thirty-five attended the meeting. As the special guests entered the church they were presented chrysanthemum corsages.

The meeting was in charge of the president, Mrs. Wayland Temple and opened by group singing accompanied by Miss Jessie Wyatt. Mrs. LeRoy Demorest, vice-president, then welcomed the group and told them the purpose of the meeting. Mrs. Allan Roberts lead devotions. A special member was sang by Mrs. Charles McMahan.

A playlet "Cast Thy Bread" was presented by Mrs. Dessia Coleman, Mrs. Bertha Keller, Mrs. Donald Demorest and Mrs. McMahan.

At this time corsages were presented to all ladies of the society, seventy years of age and older, in honor of their years of service to the church.

Mrs. Temple then explained the work of the W.S.C.S. and told of the monthly meetings. Mrs. Harold Keuhner told of the work of the Lydia Circle and Mrs. Marjorie Demorest explained Ruth Circle meetings. Mrs. Robert Howald, treasurer, explained pledges for the society, the different offerings taken through the year, and where the money is sent.

"I Believe in Belonging" was presented by Mrs. Temple, Mrs. Ollie Oborn, Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. John Krouse, Mrs. Nettie Gompf, Mrs. Dorothy Rosenberger, Mrs. Albert Augenstein, and Mrs. Don Rengert.

Progressive visitation cards were signed by all present.

Mrs. Gene Kraus read "A Meditation" and the meeting closed with group singing. The benediction was given by Mrs. John Iron.

Party Spreads Score With Football Fans

THE roar of the football crowd is ended, the stadium is emptied and a weary horde heads for home. And it's a hungry horde, too, you'll find when the football fans empty into your living room at the end of one of these crisp fall Saturday afternoons or evenings.

Designed to score a touchdown with appetites are these recipes for party spreads and cottage cheese puffs. Accompany with dessert and steaming hot coffee and you'll have no trouble winning over the hardest-to-please fan.

Tangy, Roquefort Spread: Mix ¾ cup cottage cheese, ¼ pound crumbled Roquefort cheese and 1 tablespoon sour cream together just enough to blend. Add a few drops of Worcestershire sauce. Pile in serving dish, and decorate with small fingers of Roquefort cheese. Yield: 1¼ cups spread—enough for about 25 small puffs or party sandwiches.

Cottage Cheese Watercress Spread: Mix ½ cup finely chopped watercress (about ½ bunch) with 1 cup cottage cheese and ¼ teaspoon grated onion. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Decorate with watercress. Yield: 1¼ cups spread, enough for about 25 small cream puffs or party sandwiches.

Pineapple Cheese Spread: Mix together lightly 1 cup cottage cheese and ½ cup drained crushed pineapple. Decorate with bits of pineapple. Yield: 1½ cups spread. Enough for about 30 small cream puffs or party sandwiches.

Cottage Cheese Date Coconut Spread: Mix 1 cup finely chopped dates, ½ cup shredded coconut and 1 cup cottage cheese. Let stand for a while to blend flavors. Decorate with whole dates and shredded coconut. Yield 2-1/3 cups filling. Enough for 40 to 45 small cream puffs or party sandwiches.

Party Puffs: Heat ½ cup water and ¼ cup butter to boiling point in saucepan. Mix in ½ cup sifted flour all at once. Stir constantly until mixture leaves the sides of the pan and forms into a ball, about 1 minute. Remove from heat. Cool. Beat in two eggs, one at a time, beating until smooth after each addition. Whip mixture until velvety. Drop by leveled teaspoonsful in small mounds on slightly greased baking sheets. Bake in hot oven, 400 F., for about 20 minutes. Cool puffs and cut off tops. Fill with desired cottage cheese spreads. Arrange on serving platter and garnish with radish roses, carrot curls, celery curls, and parsley. Yields 40 puffs.

Three Union Co. Girls Win Chicago 4-H Trips

Special to The Star

MARYSVILLE — Three Union County 4-H girls will be given free trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 24 to 30, as the result of winning state championships in 4-H competition at the Ohio State Fair this year, the extension office announces.

Mary Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne Howard of Milford Center, won for food preparation; Sarah Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loring Thompson, and Baraba Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, both of Raymond, formed a championship nutrition demonstration team.

MARTEL W.S.C.S.

Mrs. Leola Hissong was hostess Thursday at her home for an all-day meeting of the Martel W.S.C.S. She was assisted by Mrs. Carrie Thompson. The meeting opened with group singing and Scripture reading by Mrs. LaVern Sharrock. A prayer service was conduced by Mrs. Edna Loyer, Mrs. Pearl Rice, and Mrs. Dora Coulter. A contribution was sent to Mission Self Denial and the missionary reading, "Union with Christ in His Ministry," was given by Mrs. Priscilla Black. The work period was spent sewing rags for rugs. Fifteen members and three guests, Mrs. Emma Wilson, Mrs. Betty Lyon and Mrs. Dessie Rorick, were present. Mrs. Rorick became a new member. The Christmas meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Loyer.

LOW CHURCH AFFILIATION

MARYSVILLE—Of 760 public school pupils in Union County enrolled in weekday religious education classes, 329 claim no regular church affiliation, according to a report made by Miss Laura Rea, county religious teacher, to a meeting of the Community Council for Weekday Religious Education in the First Baptist Church at Richwood.

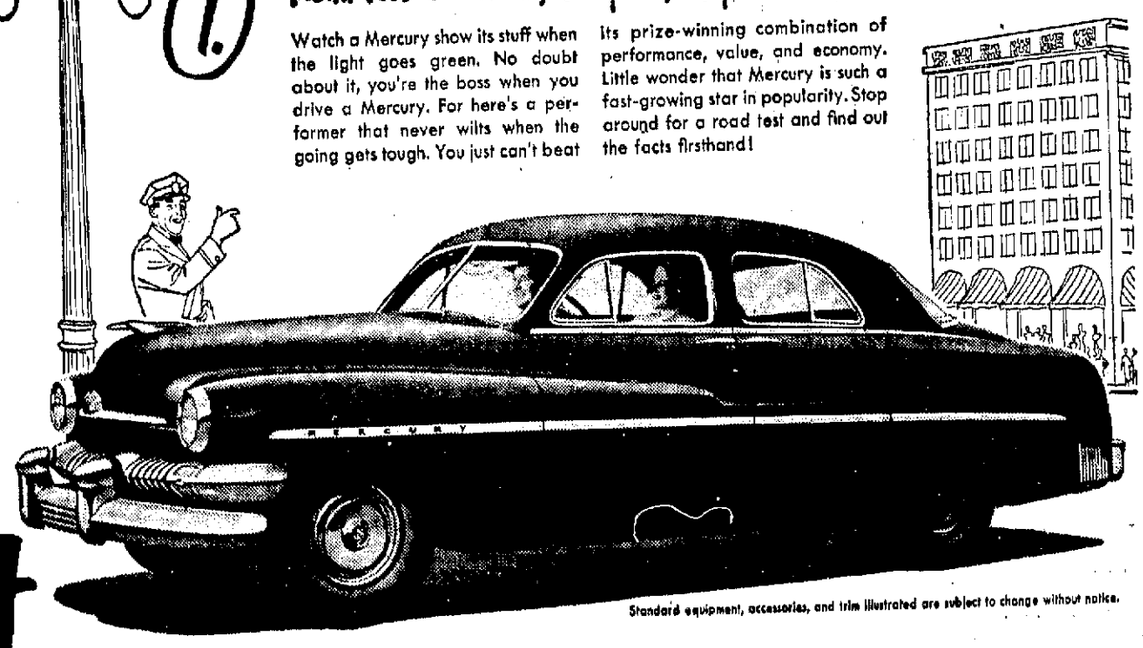
Rules the Road but not Your Budget

1. Road Test a Mercury for proof of performance!

Watch a Mercury show its stuff when the light goes green. No doubt about it, you're the boss when you drive a Mercury. For here's a performer that never wilts when the going gets tough. You just can't beat its prize-winning combination of performance, value, and economy. Little wonder that Mercury is such a fast-growing star in popularity. Stop around for a road test and find out the facts firsthand!



Standard equipment, accessories, and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

2. Budget Test a Mercury for proof of value!

☐ Does it have a down-to-earth first price? Mercury's price tag you can easily understand—a really big dollar's worth for every dollar invested.

☐ Will upkeep stay low? You save money year after year. Mercury's famous stamina keeps repair bills at a rock-bottom low.

☐ Will trade-in value stay high? Mercurys continue to keep their value; used car market reports consistently prove it.

☐ Is it famous for long life? It is indeed! 92% of all Mercurys ever built for use in this country are still on the road, according to latest annual official registration figures.

3-WAY CHOICE! For "the drive of your life!" Mercury offers a triple choice in dependable transmissions. Merc-O-Matic Drive, the new simpler, smoother, more efficient automatic transmission—or thrifty Touch-O-Matic Overdrive are optional at extra cost. There's also silent-ease standard transmission.

Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening, 8:30 to 9:30 P.M., Station WBNS, Channel 10.

Today's Fashion Flash

NEW YORK

THERE'S a new twist to the old story of "beauty and the beach."

A swim-accessories maker today introduced bathing caps as fancy as the bonniest bonnet for Easter.

The caps, entirely of rubber of course, are shaped like the smartest cloches, and are heaped all over with tiny rubber flowers, corsages, rosettes and even feathers.

The flowers--as close to violets and damask roses as a rubberized product could be--are so prolific they even cover the chin straps.

In the cases of the corsages, large "cabbage roses" are sealed at the side top of some caps. And rubber "feathers" are allowed to shoot away from the head with all the jauntiness of a Dache beret.

Most startling cap of all is the "Maypole," which has dainty flowers running in alternating strips of color--from peacock and citron to chartreuse and strawberry pink--around the crown.

Spare Tire Stolen From Two Autos

Spare tires from two 1951 Plymouths parked on Oak St. were stolen sometimes last night, police said today.

One of the tires was taken from the trunk of a car owned by Melvin Weston of 564 Oak St. while the car was parked in front of his home. The trunk of the car had been pried open.

The trunk of a car owned by Frank Postell of 239 Fairview St. was pried open while the car was parked in front of 491 Oak St. last night and the spare tire taken.

Both tires were valued at $37 by their owners.

Marion Garden Center Notes

PRACTICAL TIPS

It's small tricks picked up here and there, that add to your gardening skill. Here are a few, passed on by experienced gardeners, which require little time or money. Whether you are putting out shrubs, repotting house plants, or growing late vegetables, you will find these ideas useful. And your plants will be duly grateful.

Perhaps those shrubs that you've ordered have arrived and you haven't time at the moment to plant them properly. "Hill them in" for temporary storage by covering them with earth in a shallow tench.

Try a new way to water newly potted plants thoroughly. Soak them in a tub which is partly filled with water. A cold frame doesn't have to be fancy to be useful. One can be made, backed up to a building. The cover can either be glass or a glass substitute.

Ratio of Wealthy Widows Grows

Women Taking Hold In Investment Field

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

WOMEN are learning, the hard way, it's no longer smart to be ignorant.

There was a time, not far back, when it was common to hear a charming, pampered woman remark with conscious pride:

"Really, I don't know a thing about business! My husband takes care of all that sort of thing, bless his heart. Why, he even has to balance my checkbook, because he knows figures always were a mystery to poor little me."

The "poor little me" school of thought rapidly is becoming passe, however, as the ratio of wealthy widows grows steadily in the population of the United States. It is pointed out by Wilma Soss, president of the Federation of Women Shareholders, that every other woman in the country is a widow at the age of 60, and if she doesn't know how to manage her money, she'd jolly well better find out.

That's the purpose of a new course for women investors which opened in New York recently, under the auspices of the federation.

Most of us know a genteel widow who has been living with relatives for years since her husband's death, although he left her stocks and bonds which could have been expected to see her comfortably through the rest of her life.

But so often the investments of these delightfully ignorant ladies have seemed to melt imperceptibly away, until the dawn of some cold, gray day when they discovered with panic that they were without income or resources.

* * *

ATTENDANCE AT THE NEW investment course for women demonstrates the girls are waking up. The same trend has been noted in all parts of the country, as women have flocked to attend seminars in finance arranged by local banks, brokerage houses and life insurance companies.

Some of the most popular women's club programs are primary courses in investments and the handling of money. Many point out that women would be even sharper financiers than men, since they are by nature fervent shoppers, and can beat their husbands any day in tracking down a bargain at the supermarket.

More women than men are said to be stockholders in the nation's ten largest corporations. About 50 per cent of individually held stocks are said to be in women's names, much of the stock jointly held by husband-wife partnerships.

The first speaker at the current New York investment course was Lucien O. Hooper, past president of the national federation of financial analysts societies and chief analyst for one of the big town's top brokerage houses. He told the ladies:

"Some people read the stock table in the daily papers just as a racetrack fan studies the daily racing form. That is the beginning of sorrows, not the beginning of intelligence."

You can't play hunches or expect to make a quick cleanup, if you are mapping out a plan of sound investments, said Mr. Hooper, warning the ladies that their first consideration should be the intrinsic value of the stocks selected.

* * *

MRS. SOSS TOLD THE GROUP one of the purposes of the course is to teach women "how to shop for investments and investment counsel with the freedom from fear which they have in other areas in which women are pre-eminent purchasing agents."

Miss Elsa Paul, a banker's daughter and stockholder in some 50 corporations who is chairman of the course, warned that mothers as well as fathers today must keep the wolf from the door by vigilance in protecting family finances, adding.

"Mothers owe it to their children to be able to give them financial education where it must first begin, in the home."

Blue Star Mothers Set Party for Nov. 15

Plans for a card party Nov. 15 were completed when Marion Chapter No. 27, Blue Star Mothers of America, met Thursday night in the YMCA. Reports were given concerning a rummage sale Oct 29 and presentation of gift packages to a group of eight men and women who entered the service from the Marion Recruiting Office last week.

Mrs. Helen Jerew, president of the chapter, left Sunday night to attend the national convention in Milwaukee, Wis.

Bad Luck Floors Farmer But Friends Save Day

ENTERPRISE, Pa. —(UP) Wayne R Shoop, an ex-GI farmer here had a run of bad luck.

Heavy rain and hail storms ruined much of Shoop's crops. Then Shoop had to spend 26 days in the hospital with an infected appendix

When Shoop was released from the hospital, he was ordered to keep off his tractor until his incision had healed That would have meant disaster for him, since he had 40 acres of plowing to do for his fall planting.

Fourteen neighboring farmers solved Shoop's problem. They moved in on his farm with 14 tractors and completed plowing the 40 acres in four and a half hours. Shoop estimated that it would have taken him 63 hours to have done the job alone.

Discuss Real Estate Market in Meeting Here

An analysis of the current real estate market along with a discussion of the outlook for the future in the real estate business was given by Harold S. Goodrich of Springfield, president of the Ohio Association of Real Estate Boards when he addressed a joint meeting of the Marion, Galion and Bucyrus Real Estate Boards Monday night at Hotel Harding.

Ton members of the two out of town boards joined with 20 members of the Marion Board, the host group, for the program, which was preceded by a banquet in the Presidential Suite.

Joe Davis, president of the Marion Board, presided.

In his talk, Mr. Goodrich pointed out to the real estate dealers present that their business has been proven to be a commodity which causes more people of the country to save money.

Buy Homes

He told his audience of displaced persons who have come to this country and, within a period of two years, already have saved enough money to make at least a down payment on a home of their own. He pointed out that such persons deem it a privilege to buy and own property, something they never have had a chance to do, and they are proud of their right of ownership.

Mr. Goodrich also discussed the recently instituted tax law which provides that home owners who sell their homes to buy others now are freed from a previous federal tax applied on the capital gain in the sale of the home.

A general discussion of the law among the members followed, along with a question and answer period.

Through the discussion, the real estate dealers learned the new law provides that when the sale of the taxpayer's principal residence is followed within a year by the purchase of another home, or when the home is bought within a year prior to the sale, the gain is to be recognized only to the extent that the selling price of the old home exceeds the cost of the new one.

Taxable Gain

To illustrate this point, Mr. Goodrich pointed out that if a dwelling purchased in 1940 for $10,000 was sold or traded in 1951 for $15,000, there would have been a taxable gain of $5,000 under the old law. Under the new law, he added, no portion of the gain is taxable, provided a substitute "principal residence" is bought within the time limit for $15,00 or more. If the replacement cost is less than $15,000, the less amount is taxable as gain.

The new law provision applies when one residence is exchanged for another, where a replacement residence which had to be reconstructed in order to permit occupancy.

High Bail On Communists Ruled Out

Justice Dept. Suffers Setback in Action Of Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6—(AP)—Government efforts to keep suspected communists in jail pending trial by setting their bail at $50,000each met a sharp set-back yesterday from the supreme court.

The court said letting such high bail stand in this case would risk introduction of dictatorial practices into American government.

The fact that four top Reds jumped bail recently is no ground for fixing unusually high bond in later similar cases Chief Justice Vinson declared in a formal opinion.

The ruling was in the case of 12 persons held in jail in Los Angeles in lieu of $50,000 bail each. Among them is William Schneiderman, referred to in court papers as the acting head of the communist party in the United States.

The 12 were indicted on a charge of conspiring to violate the Smith Anti-Subversives Act. They were accused of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of government.

Vinson said the government, in asking $50,000 bail, asked the courts to assume each of the accused to be "a pawn in a conspiracy (who) will, in obediences to a superior, flee the county" if told to do so.

"To infer from the fact of indictment alone a need for bail in an unusually high amount is an arbitrary act," Vinson said. Seven of the eight other justices concurred. Justice Minton was absent.

In other actions the court:

1. Declined to review at this time a decision by a New York court that suits for libel and slander may be filed against persons who give information to the Federal Bureau of Investigation, if the statements furnished were motivated by malice.

FBI chief J. Edgar Hoover had declared the bureau's work would be "irreparably" damaged if the ruling were allowed to stand. The suit involved is still pending in New York federal courts.

2. Agreed to decide on validity of a Missouri law which compels employers to give workers time off, with pay, on election days.

3. Granted a hearing to Yvette Madsen, who was convicted of fatally shooting her Army officer husband in the American occupied zone of Germany. Mrs. Madsen is serving a 15-year sentence in this country.

Rare Stamps Give "Raffles" Over Million

Raids on Dealers Reported From Coast to Coast

By SYD KRONISH
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK—Raffles is on the loose again. Only this time his loot is rare stamps.

He strikes with lightning swiftness—and his victims are stamp dealers from coast to coast, New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Cincinnati and Toronto have felt his thieving touch.

Police believe these thefts, which have amounted to over $1,000,000 the past four years, according to the American Stamp Dealers Association, are the work of one gang—with a stamp expert at the head.

His methods are the same each time, police officials explain.

Work of a Master Mind

Of course, Raffles is exceptionally clever. He master-minds the jobs—then assigns the actual duties to skilled performers.

Here's how it's done:

A dealer's shop is watched for sometime. Perhaps one of the gang will enter and make inquiries about certain stamps. Sometimes he will buy stamps just to see where the most valuable are located.

Then comes time for the job. Sunday is the best day. Stamp dealers are usually closed that day.

The shop is neatly entered. The most valuable stamps are kept in the safe so the hirelings, who know the layout with their eyes closed, tackle that immediately. The "rip system" of removing the door with brace and bit (no dynamite charges) is used.

Only the rare items are taken. Perhaps the multi-colored, pretty-looking stamps are right on top. But Raffles' boys know these are not the high-priced ones. The rarity could be dirty-looking, not-so-pretty little stamps. But the boys know what to take. Then they make a hasty departure.

No clue has ever been left. No fingerprints have ever been found. None of the stamps have been located.

What happens to the stamps after Raffles gets them? Are the rare items sold for cash at once?

A Victim's Theory

Ervant Kirk of the New York Stamp Co., which was the victim of a $75,000 robbery in 1948, has a theory. Kirk believes the stamps are taken to Europe or South America. There they are exchanged for raw materials which in turn are sent back to the U. S.

Says Kirk: "They (the culprits) wouldn't dare sell the stamps in this country—at least not for 20 years. The stolen items are publicized and well known to every leading stamp dealer in America. For example, our valuable stamps had special identification marks on the back. (Some dealers place such marks on the back without depreciation.) The crooks must either hold onto the issues for a long time or get rid of them abroad."

The police in several cities, postal authorities, insurance detectives and the American Stamp Dealers Association are cooperating to crack down on these philatelic thieves.

But Raffles is nowhere to be found. Neither are the stamps.

CAUGHT IN STORM-CAUSED CRASH. One of hundreds of motorists seriously injured in auto crashes caused by nation-wide winter storms, Rosemary Ivis, 18, of West Roxbury, Mass., lies pinned beneath the wrecked hood of her car. Awaiting the arrival of an ambulance, a passerby shelters her from the pelting rain. The storm's death toll was placed at 20.

Finders Not Keepers Finder Discovers

DETROIT —(UP)—Kenneth C. McKinnon has learned that finders aren't always keepers.

McKinnon found a $100 bill on the ground at a used car lot but he was taken to court when he refused to turn it over to the owner of the property.

"It was on the ground and I thought finders were keepers," McKinnon said.

"Not when the owner is known and the stake is on his property," Judge David C. Vokes replied.

McKinnon was forced to give the $100 bill to Joe Yanni and had to pay $8.50 for court costs and attorneys fees.

Soldier Too Small To Stay in Army

CAMP RUCKER, Ala.—(UP)—A likely candidate for the Army's smallest soldier was discharged because of his size.

George W. Cameron, who was a private in company A 136th infantry regiment of the 47th "Viking" Division, measures four feet, nine inches in height, weighs 107 pounds and wears a size three shoe.
